Daladier Asked To Form Public Safety Cabinet

Vigorous House-cleaning of Financial Scandals Planned to Restore Public Confidence in France
Ousts Boncour as Foreign Minister
New Premier Was Minister of War in Chautemps Government and Formerly Held Premiership

Associated Press
Paris, Jan. 29.—Edouard Daladier was entrusted to-day with the task of forming a sort of "public safety cabinet" for a vigorous house-cleaning of financial scandals and restoration of shaken public confidence in the government.

Daladier was understood to plan to take the Foreign Affairs portfolio himself, ousting Joseph Paul-Boncour. To give the cabinet a strong position to face Germany in the disarmament tangle it was reported, he will unite the ministries of War, Navy and Air into a National Defence Ministry.

The new ministry will supplant that of Camille Chautemps, which resigned Saturday amid rioting and demonstrations in all parts of France as a result of the Bayonne Bank scandal.

THREE DECLINED
Daladier was Minister of War in the Chautemps government and a former premier. Three others had declined to accept the premiership. Gaston Doumergue, former president, told President Lebrun he was too old. Jules Jeanneney refused to accept to form a government which could restore political tranquility—as asked by the President—because of ill-health. Ferdinand Emile Bouisson declined also.

Daladier had been strong for frontier fortifications and wanted to extend France's so-called "iron ring" along the Belgian border. Daladier frequently has pleaded for more funds with which to strengthen the defences.

Daladier will have to turn to the centre in the Chamber of Deputies for support, because of his recent sharp break with the Socialists. He never mentioned in allegations hurled at other government officials in connection with the scandal at Bayonne. He served as premier from January 31 to October 24, 1933, expelling the Socialists from the left to the right Republicans in the centre. He faced a threat of considerable hostilities from the regular Socialists.

Architects Want Charges Unified

Montreal, Jan. 29.—The Royal Architectural Society of Canada would succeed in having the governments agree to unification of standard charges for professional services, was announced Saturday at the annual meeting of the Province of Quebec Association of Architects.

British Disarmament Views Are Studied

Embodied in Memorandum Sent to Governments Concerned, Sir John Simon Tells Parliament

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 29.—Sir John Simon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons to-day that the government views on disarmament have been embodied in a memorandum sent to British envoys abroad for submission to the governments chiefly concerned.

He said the government had arrived at a decision that the time has come for it to make known its attitude on disarmament negotiations. These have been carried on through the diplomatic machinery since Germany withdrew from the Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

Accordingly said Sir John, the British stand will be made public when interested governments have had the opportunity to consider the memorandum, possibly within the next two days.

Sir John said the government has taken the view that reformation of the League of Nations is secondary to and dependent upon the urgent question of disarmament. This view, he declared he was glad to say, has been confirmed by the Italian and French governments.

Sir John did not give a direct answer to a Liberal party member's question as to whether "the long negotiations provided Germany with an excellent opportunity for rearmament."

ROADS LEAGUE RETURNS HEAD

B.C. Highway Association Wants Lower Gas and License Fees
Resolution Favors Formation of a Highway Commission.

Re-election of J. J. Johnston, New Westminster, and J. J. Lye, Port Moody, as president and secretary respectively, and hearing of Mr. Johnston's annual report, were features of the meeting of the Good Roads League executive in the City Hall to-day.

Following their meeting arrangements were made to interview Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, this afternoon, with requests that motor license fees be greatly reduced.

The reduction of gasoline prices, sought by the league, was passed along to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities for consideration.

The executive reaffirmed its stand on the desirability of appointing a highway commission.

In his report Mr. Johnston explained the cause of the executive meeting in lieu of a convention, and referred to the last gathering when moves were made for lower license fees and the necessity of keeping up highways.

GOVERNMENT DEAF
These matters had been presented to Hon. R. H. Bruden, the Minister of Public Works, but although he had given the body a sympathetic ear, the government had failed to see its way to setting on the league's suggestions. This stand had been taken in spite of the league's arguments to prove that lower license fees would be a boon to the province.

ARREST IRON CROSS HERO

Rev. M. Niemoeller First Victim of German Church Dictator

By Louis P. Lochner, Associated Press Foreign Staff
Berlin, Jan. 29.—Rev. Martin Niemoeller, fighting head of the pastor's Emergency Confederation and an Iron Cross war hero, was arrested to-day by Prussian secret police, the first victim of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller's church dictatorship.

The police entered his home while he was sitting in his study recalling submarine adventures with another former U-boat commander who now heads a division of Hitler's storm troops. Niemoeller just had time to gather up his toothbrush and his Bible and kiss his wife goodbye before he was whisked off to jail.

CAPTURE BLAMED TO CHURCH PARADE

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 29.—Four men are held here on automobile theft charges, blaming their capture on the fact Vancouver police attended a Sunday church parade.

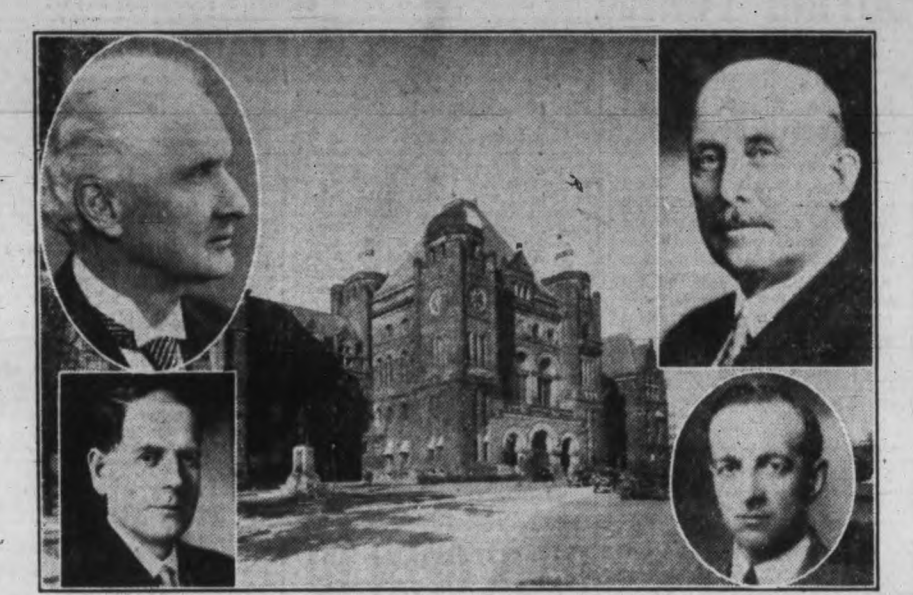

Constables in a police "cruiser" car noticed a stolen automobile being driven along a main street last night. They forced the car into the curb and gave chase when four young men jumped from the car and fled.

Just then, more than a dozen police officers who had been attending a church parade alighted from a street car. Their attention was drawn to the chase when one of the pursuing constables fired his revolver into the air in an attempt to halt the fugitives. The newcomers joined in the chase and, within a few minutes, James McKenzie, Leo P. Belanger, George Wilson and Kenneth Blake had been arrested.

BADEN-POWELL'S CONDITION SAME

Associated Press
London, Jan. 29.—Lord Robert Baden-Powell, seventy-seven-year-old founder of the Boy Scouts, "had a fairly good night and otherwise there is no change in his condition," said a bulletin issued from his hospital bedside to-day. He recently underwent two operations.

Ontario Starts Last Session Before Election

The Ontario Legislature will open January 31, and by all accounts it will be one of the most tempestuous in recent years, with Hynd and other controversial issues to the fore. All parties are busy drawing up extensive programmes as Ontario will be called upon to select a new Legislature in a general provincial election shortly after the forthcoming session closes. The picture shows a new view of the Parliament Buildings at Toronto. Inset, top, left and right, are: Hon. H. H. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Hon. George S. Henry, Prime Minister. Resolutions For Cities' Convention Reviewed To-day

Tax, School and Hospital Affairs Come Before Municipal Union Committee
Proposals of B.C. Municipalities Prepared for Convention

Without preamble the resolutions committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, in convention at the City Hall, plunged into consideration of resolutions to be brought before the general convention at its open sessions to-morrow.

Mayor David Leeming, chairman, briefly greeted the delegates before R. F. F. Sewell, municipal clerk of Saanich, acting secretary, read the motions.

A resolution from Alberni seeking a tax on the marketing of lumber was ruled out on the grounds it was not a matter for the municipalities.

Labeled as "purely Socialist," a move from Burnaby, not endorsed by any other municipality, seeking the abolition of tax sales was not considered.

ELECTIONS
A. T. Howe, reeve of Coldstream, speaking for his municipality's move to have nomination day set for the third Monday of January instead of the second, to give the council a chance to day up their financial statements for submission to the ratepayers before election day, noted the difficulty of producing a report during the first two weeks of the year.

A Vernon representative supported the Coldstream resolution.

Mayor Leeming recommended the advancing rather than the retarding of municipal elections to avoid a retiring council carrying on to the new year.

His suggestion was supported on the grounds municipalities were spending money irregularly before an expenditure by-law was passed.

The committee decided to send the matter to the main body of the convention without comment.

From Coquitlam came a resolution asking attention be drawn to the fact when a person was injured in an automobile crash, no liabilities could be collected if the insured party died. The committee asked the question be brought before the attention of the Attorney-General.

Percy Titmous Comes to Aid of Her Majesty When Royal Automobile Breaks Down; Townsfolk Amazed

Associated Press
Cambridge, England, Jan. 29.—Percy Titmous, who works for a brewery, drove into town this morning with Her Majesty, Queen Mary, riding in his little automobile.

The townsfolk stared in amazement from the sidewalks.

Queen Mary's automobile had broken down between Ely and Cambridge while she was motoring from Sandringham to shop for antiques.

Titmous saw Her Majesty's plight as he drove down the road. He offered his aid. The Queen accepted.

Husein Khan was the premier of King Mohammed Kahir Khan, whose father, the former King Nadir Khan, was himself assassinated last November.

Severe Earthquake Occurring In Mexico Is Recorded Here

Thousands Camp Out at Acapulco, Fearing Further Shocks; Many Reported Injured

Associated Press
Mexico, D.F., Jan. 29.—Thousands "camped out" in parks, gardens, and even in the streets of Acapulco and nearby towns in the state of Guerrero to-day, fearing further shocks following a heavy earthquake felt over a 1,000-mile area in South-Central Mexico.

The Red Cross and other relief organizations prepared to speed aid to the stricken regions as soon as a definite check could be made. Many persons were reported injured.

The epicentre of the oscillatory earth movement was fixed by the national observatory at Tecuapala, Guerrero.

As a result of shock two women in Toluca near here, gave premature birth to babies.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 29.—A severe earthquake was registered at the Dominion Observatory here Sunday. It was reported to-day. The first preliminary tremors arrived at 2.15 p.m. the distance to the epicentre was 3,800 kilometers, or 2,360 miles. The time at the origin was 2.10 p.m. The record continued for three hours.

On developing his plates at the Gonzales Observatory this morning, P. Napier Denison, superintendent, discovered the records of a very severe earthquake. It began recording at 11.17 o'clock yesterday morning and continued for four hours. Mr. Denison placed the epicentre about two miles south of Mexico City.

WERE HELPLESS IN SMALL BOAT

Four Victorians Drifted About in Straits Yesterday Until Picked Up by Rescuers

Their engine disabled, and a stiff off-shore breeze blowing them towards Port Angeles, a party of four Victorians spent an anxious three hours yesterday afternoon in their thirty-five-foot motorboat, until they were picked up and towed into the inner harbor by Robert Armstrong in his boat, the K.M.B.

In the party aboard the craft were Raymond Heal, Mr. and Mrs. J. Renouf and Miss Renouf.

On a short pleasure jaunt the party started out from Victoria in the morning. Their engine failed when they were about two miles from the beach and the breeze blew them steadily off-shore. They hoisted a white flag to their masthead, and this was seen, with the aid of binoculars, by one of the residents of Dallas Road, who immediately telephoned the Pilot Station. The man on duty there got in touch with Mr. Armstrong, who left for the rescue within a few minutes.

SENT MESSAGE
The St. Princess Charlotte, on her way to Vancouver from Victoria, sighted the disabled craft, and noting the white flag sent a wireless message to the Pilot Station. Mr. Armstrong, by that time, however, was following in the wake of the Princess Charlotte. He reached the disabled Camela in quick time and immediately put a line aboard and towed her into the inner harbor, where repairs to the engine are being effected.

Members of the party said they were becoming anxious and feared a strong wind might spring up, which would blow them across the Straits, or into the tide rips near Trial Island. They also feared that darkness might settle down before they were rescued, in which case their plight might have become serious. They were none the worse for their adventure, and were comfortable aboard the Camela, which boasts a cozy cabin.

Attempt To Blaze New Air Mail Trail Across South Atlantic Ends In Disaster

GORDON DRUMS ARE RETURNED

Sir Ian Hamilton Receives Them From President Hindenburg

By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Jan. 29.—Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton left to-day for Berlin in the autumn of 1914 they were ordered to stack their drums and proceed with pipes alone in rapid marches. Hearing they were likely to be overwhelmed by heavy German forces, they edged off towards Tyne and never saw Ostend again.

After their long occupation of Ostend the German took the Gordon drums and placed them in their war museum. Sir Ian recently made representations to the highest quarters in Berlin with the result he was invited to go to Germany to get the drums.

Capt. Francia Lombardi and Crew of Wrecked Machine Sighted on Beach by Pan-American Airways Plane and Taken to Fortaleza

TWO MEN SUFFER SLIGHT INJURIES

Ill-fated Plane Left Rome Saturday and Was Expected at Buenos Aires via Dakar, Africa

Fortaleza, Brazil, Jan. 29.—Four Italian fliers who cracked up on the beach near here early to-day after spanning the south Atlantic, were later brought to Fortaleza by a rescue party. Two were injured slightly.

The mechanic, Marino Battaglia, and Radioman Davidi Guilini required first-aid treatment for their injuries in the crash, which ended an attempt to blaze a new air trail to South America.

Capt. Francia Lombardi, commander of the flight, and Count Franco Mazotti, second pilot, escaped unscathed.

A Pan-American Airways rescue party went to the aid of the fliers, who crashed on the beach twelve miles from here.

WRECKAGE SIGHTED
The wreckage of the Italian airplane was sighted at about 7 a.m. by Bert Saura, pilot of the American airliner. He was unable to land his ship, filled with passengers and mail bound for the United States, but circled low above the spot of the disaster.

He quickly wrote a note: "Help coming." Then he tied it to a weight and dropped it, beside the beached men. They waved back.

Burnett Boyd, manager of the local Pan-American Airways port, immediately organized a rescue party.

RAN OUT OF GAS
The Italian plane, which left Rome early Saturday, had been due in Buenos Aires to-day. It left Dakar, Africa, early Sunday and reached the Brazilian coast 300 miles off its course, about 10 p.m. Afterward it wandered aimlessly, seeking its destination, Natal, until, out of gas, it crashed.

The ship was manned, in addition to Capt. Lombardi, thirty-six years old, by Count Franco Mazotti, twenty-nine, second pilot; Marino Battaglia, thirty-six, mechanic, and Davidi Guilini, thirty-four, radio operator.

Guilini was a veteran of the flights of the Italian Commander Italo Balbo from Rome to Rio de Janeiro and from Rome to Sheddah, N.B., Montreal and Chicago.

Premier Continues B.C. Case At Ottawa

Resumes Negotiations With Mr. Bennett After Big Conference

Dominion Government Reserves London Market for Own Refunding

Although the western provinces met with a refusal from the Dominion Government in their request for assistance in debt refunding at lower interest rates, British Columbia has not abandoned hope for its financial proposals, it was intimated by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, who returned to his desk at the Parliament Buildings this morning after attending the Dominion-Provincial conference at Ottawa.

Mr. Hart made no direct comment on the subject other than to point out that the Dominion itself will find it necessary to refund large sums of money falling due this year, and there appeared no doubt Ottawa was reserving to itself the London money market for this purpose. The provincial cabinet will also consider its own plans, apparently.

POlicies STIR INTEREST
The "work and wages" proposals of the B.C. government were presented in such an eloquent and energetic manner as to command the deep interest and sympathetic consideration of the Dominion Government, Mr. Hart said. Premier Pattullo's progressive policies are the topic of conversation in the East, and his able manner in pressing for their recognition and consideration greatly enhanced his prestige.

Mr. Hart explained that the Premier remained after the rest of the delegation came home, and will again take up more of British Columbia's case with Prime Minister Bennett.

PLEADS WITH KIDNAPERS

Adolph Bremer Asks for Sign That Son Is Alive

Associated Press
St. Paul, Jan. 29.—Sixty-seven-year-old Adolph Bremer, ill and worried, to-day pleaded with the kidnapers of his son, Edward G. Bremer, for some sign that the missing man is still alive.

As the twelfth day passed since a gang seized the younger Bremer, without any definite word of his fate, the elder Bremer apparently was becoming more concerned, and begged for a contact with the abductors.

He made public a statement Sunday in which he said:

"I desire to communicate with you. We want our son back. We are ready to negotiate and the money is ready if you will only tell us where to meet you."

RETURN TO GOLD STANDARD UNLIKELY

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 29.—For the United Kingdom to return to the gold standard would be "inappropriate under present circumstances," Leslie Hore-Belisha, Financial Secretary, told the House of Commons as it assembled to-day.

Mr. Hore-Belisha said the government was ready to resume negotiations with the United States on the question of war debts "whenever after consultation with the President of the United States, it may appear this can usefully be done."

Cities To Discuss Public Utilities

DR. A. M. LYTHGOE DIES IN BOSTON

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 29.—Dr. Albert M. Lythgoe, noted Egyptologist, who was among those present at the opening of the inner chamber to King Tutankhamen's tomb in 1923, died to-day in Boston, officials of the museum of art were informed. He was sixty-five years old.

He had been suffering for some time with an attack of general arteriosclerosis.

His illness had revived the story of a "curse" that was supposed to have dealt death and misfortune to many people connected with the opening of the Pharaoh's tomb, but officials of the metropolitan museum produced statistics to support their contention that the "curse" was a myth.

The proposal for the creation of a public utilities commission in British Columbia will be discussed by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities through a resolution passed upon by the resolutions committee at its meeting in the City Hall to-day.

The committee passed a redrafted motion to come before the convention following consideration of a move from Matsqui as follows:

"Resolved, that the provincial government be requested to appoint forthwith a public utilities commission, either by amendment of the Water Act or by special enactment, with full powers to fix reasonable rates for service, to provide for uniformity of rates as far as possible, and to enforce the terms of contracts made by utility companies."

Speaking on the matter, one delegate suggested the board include experts who could deal with statistics with which most companies baffled such bodies.

HOUSE SELECTS ITS COMMITTEES

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The standing committees of the House of Commons will be selected this week and in view of the importance of the legislation they will be called upon to consider, particular care will be taken by all parties in naming their representatives. The committees select their own chairmen but since, in every case, government supporters will be in the majority, the chairmen are really government choices. One of the most important committees this year will be that on banking and commerce. It will deal with the revision of the Bank Act and the report of the Macmillan Commission on banking legislation required to set up a Central Bank, will also come before it. Since the present government took office the chairman of this committee has been Hon. R. C. Matthews, but now he is Minister of National Revenue, a new choice must be made. O. R. Geary (Conservative, Toronto South) has been mentioned as the likely choice. The agricultural committee will also have a heavy session. The legislation to improve marketing will be before it. This legislation is not finally complete but it is expected it soon will be ready. Reports are that it may be far-reaching in its provisions and make the committee's deliberations exceedingly important. Mark C. Smith (Conservative, Hamilton) is again likely to be chairman. The committee may also review the wheat quota agreement made in London.

"Mr. Pattullo will further negotiate with Premier Bennett with regard to the 'work and wages' programme for British Columbia, as well as cheaper money to assure its success, in addition, he is pressing for the consideration of other vital matters to the province," he stated.

As far as the public works programme already announced from Ottawa is concerned, the Finance Minister said direct relief could be continued until the works were commenced.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING
Mr. Hart declared the B.C. delegation had been met with the utmost courtesy in Ottawa. The ministers and departmental officials spent considerable time with their respective departments and many inter-departmental matters were satisfactorily settled.

Whatever else was the outcome of the conference there was no doubt a fuller understanding and greater unanimity now exists between the Dominion and the provinces, and the western provinces may expect more consideration owing to their peculiar circumstances," he said.

Mr. Hart was full of praise for the manner in which the B.C. leader worked under the physical handicap occasioned by his illness. The Premier is only now recovered from the infection which threatened for a time to keep him away from the conference entirely.

STRIKE CLOSES LOGGING CAMPS

Negotiations Proceeding Between Owners and Workers at Two Points

No change was reported to-day in the strike situation at the Blooded, Stewart and Welch Ltd. logging camps between Campbell River and Menzies, where, on Saturday, 425 men refused to work, because, it is reported of complaints arising over the laying-off of a number of the fallers and buckers. It was stated a number of the men had left the camps for Vancouver, via Nanaimo, while there were still about 100 left at the camps. It is believed the camps will close down, although this has not been learned authoritatively.

Vancouver, Jan. 29.—(Canadian Press).—Negotiations are being continued to-day between loggers in employ of Blooded, Stewart and Welch Ltd., at Campbell River, who quit work Saturday morning, and the company. Hope was expressed this morning that a satisfactory settlement can be reached. In the meantime all work has ceased and between 350 and 400 men are idle.

A meeting was held Saturday night at which certain possibilities of settlement were discussed.

About 100 of the men arrived in the city Sunday night on the Union steamship boat. They were met at the wharf by a large number of relatives and sympathizers. There was no demonstration.

No statement was given at the Vancouver offices of the company to-day, officials declaring they wish to ascertain the result of the negotiations now proceeding.

SUPPLEMENT ON CANADA

Hon. G. H. Ferguson, in Financial Times, Says British Capital Welcomed

London, Jan. 29.—The Financial Times to-day brought out a special supplement on the subject of Canada's economic progress which included a message from Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Ferguson's message said Canada welcomes British capital, both in the form of direct investment and in that of the purchase price for her exports to the United Kingdom.

So-day, it added, the Dominion welcomes the expansion of the market for British goods in all her provinces where there is hope for consumption of imported goods.

INSULL APPEALS STAY IN GREECE

Athens, Jan. 29.—A formal appeal which he hoped would give Samuel Insull Sr. former Chicago utilities operator, from five to fifteen more days' haven in Greece, was submitted to-day to the Ministry of the Interior by P. Rhalia, Insull's lawyer.

The appeal was based on what he claimed to be Insull's bad health and was accompanied by a certificate from a private physician who said his patient's health did not permit him to travel.

Liberal Leader Calls For Election

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—A challenge to the government to hold a general election was hurled in the House of Commons to-day by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader. "The government," he said, "has lost the moral authority to govern and its duty would be to resign and go to the people in a general election."

Conservatives met the challenge with laughter, especially when the Liberal leader elaborated on the success of his party in recent by-elections.

MUST INCREASE BUYING POWER

W. A. C. Bennett Tells Kelowna Bureau—Wages Should Be Boosted

Kelowna, B.C., Jan. 29.—Evidence of improved conditions was revealed during the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' Bureau of Kelowna Board of Trade when W. A. C. Bennett declared that the time has arrived for employers to raise wages and increase purchasing power of the people.

O. L. Jones, in support of Mr. Bennett's suggestion, stated that in some cases the Minimum Wage Act had been violated locally and the time has come to enforce it rigidly. The meeting discussed advisability of calling a special session to discuss possibilities of wage increases.

P. Capozzi's plea that the farmers' purchasing power must be maintained at all costs was endorsed by Chester Owen, who declared that if wages were raised generally the people would be in far better position to pay farmers more for their products.

As a solution to the problem confronting unemployed youths and their parents, H. F. Chapin advocated that odd jobs should be given to local youths, instead of to transients as had been the practice in far too many cases.

It was suggested that a local bureau should be formed for this purpose as seventy youths had indicated willingness to perform any kind of odd jobs rather than remain idle indefinitely.

license fees would put more cars on the road and increase revenue from the gasoline tax.

"From the press," he continued, "you have possibly noted an agitation by several associations to have the government charge a rate for all licenses issued. Whether or not this would work out to the advantage of all concerned it is difficult to foresee, but certainly something should be done before the date for the renewing of licenses comes around to impress upon the government to substantially reduce the present levy. This year, as you are possibly aware, the rate was increased to-day to the Ministry of the Interior by P. Rhalia, Insull's lawyer.

The appeal was based on what he claimed to be Insull's bad health and was accompanied by a certificate from a private physician who said his patient's health did not permit him to travel.

PLANNED DRASTIC WHEAT MOVE

Minimum Scale of Prices and Exports Before International Commission

London, Jan. 29.—A drastic measure aimed at world-wide rehabilitation of wheat by establishing a minimum scale of prices and exports is the most important proposal on the agenda of the International Wheat Advisory Commission, which began its third session here to-day.

There was considerable doubt on the eve of the opening whether twenty-one nations adhering to the International Wheat Pact can be persuaded to approve the project.

"Unless all countries are agreed, the pact is doomed to failure," it was stated at American headquarters. One European delegate took the view "it would put the Liverpool and Winnipeg exchanges out of business," but he holds a responsible position. The move was made pending possible enactment of a health insurance act.

A Kamloops spokesman stated the move had met support unofficially from organizations in the interior. Such a course, he stated, would not be followed without a plebiscite.

The view was advanced discussion of the matter on the floor of the convention might develop new ideas including the possibility of sweepstakes.

Mayor Leeming, after summarizing the financial status of the taxpayer, stated the levy of the sum suggested by Kamloops would be impossible.

The point had been reached, Mayor Leeming said, where the municipalities had to demand a higher income tax from the government. These matters were, he stated, the greater problem, he added, speaking on the local situation.

The resolution was not endorsed. Kamloops resolution seeking the appointment of mayor or reeve by election by the council of one of its own members.

A resolution from Mateau, stating that efforts were being made by railroads to avoid a just share of improvement tax and asking the government be asked to bring in a more clearly defined and equitable assessment on railway bridges, was not endorsed.

WANTS PROVINCIAL EDUCATION
Nanaimo forwarded a resolution to request the provincial government to remove the educational system from the sphere of civic budgets and have it assumed by the provincial government as a direct moral and monetary obligation.

The preamble to the resolution spoke of the social service burdens placed on the municipalities and outlined the danger to the younger generation with the curtailment of expenditures on education.

The matter was referred to a special committee which will deal with the restoration of grants to municipalities. That committee will bring back a recommendation.

Believing sufficient power was already given municipalities on the matter, the committee turned down an amendment to the Municipal Act to permit payment on real property to be spread in two periods, the first levy in the first part of the year to be paid on the basis of half of the preceding year's levy, and the balance later in the year.

A New Westminster resolution was endorsed seeking an amendment to section 20 of the Municipal Act by adding a clause that "No person shall be held to be disqualified by reason of being an exempted officer of the municipality in receipt of an allowance under the Superannuation Act." The Hudson's Bay Company dining-room. Sessions were scheduled to be resumed at 1:45 o'clock.

SAY RUSSIA NOT WHEAT MENACE

U.S.S.R. Reported Not to Have Approached Quota on Year's Production

London, Jan. 29.—Any possibility that Russia might destroy the effectiveness of the export quota system of the World Wheat Pact was discounted to-day as an international advisory commission opened its third meeting here by reviewing the operations of the agreement.

Demanding twice the amount allotted to her, Russia has stood aloof from the exporters' project, but has co-operated fully in other activities of the advisory commission as a signatory of the general pact.

In a private sitting under the chairmanship of John Van A. MacMurray, United States Minister to Rethonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the commission found the general outlook for 1934 uniformly better.

It was brought out to-day that wheat has not been very firm on the market in the opening days of 1934, mainly owing to quiet business generally. Dealers, however, were reported to be anticipating higher world prices in the near future.

The statistical position of wheat also is regarded as much stronger, especially in the United States, where weather has been unfavorable for winter wheat.

Delegates representing the big-four exporting nations insist now that it does not matter whether Russia accepts a quota at this session of the commission or not.

It was generally agreed that the Russian bear was turned bullish, and that it does not matter now whether the Soviet Union accepts the 37,000,000-bushels quota offered her under the world pact.

Wheat leaders estimate Russia has not exported more than 25,000,000 bushels, and is not likely to reach even the 35,000,000 bushels offered (and refused) when the quotas expire July 31, as her shipping season virtually is over now.

From a world viewpoint, conditions in the United States are the brightest in years. It was disclosed as the commission reached this conclusion that for the first time the United States will spread its already announced 72 per cent acreage reduction in winter wheat to 9.5 per cent by application of the allotment plan to spring seeding.

This leaves only 5.5 per cent to be attained by supplementary measures in order to reach the pledged 15 per cent reduction under the international agreement.

The commission felt the chief trouble in keeping to an export maximum might be afforded by conditions in Canada, the world's greatest exporter.

Under the law of averages, the Dominion is due for a bumper crop, but indications at present are for a normal crop. Canada has not yet taken steps to reduce her wheat acreage, but does not plant until spring.

The bumper Argentine crop has been offset by a decrease in Australia.

Resolutions for Cities' Convention Reviewed

Active opposition was also sought by Coquitlam against an increase in the capital stock of the British Columbia Telephone Company.

A rider asked that the telephone company be asked to reduce its rates in the province and if refused, application be made to the Board of Railway Commissioners for reduction of such rates to equal rates charged by the telephone company in other parts of Canada for similar services.

One speaker suggested the union endorse the first half of the resolution, place it before the cabinet, and urge the new executive to follow the matter up. He voiced the view the result would force the people to contribute to the warred stock. The suggestion was adopted with the understanding the government be asked to look after the case on behalf of the municipalities.

The matter will also be placed before the Canadian Union of Municipalities. The second half of the resolution regarding rates, brought forth considerable argument, with the general opinion being it was a matter for the individual localities to consider separately. On that point, and on the grounds that a resolution from the union might be prejudicial to municipalities, the committee decided to take no action at the present time, but asked pressure be exerted to secure a public utilities commission.

REJECTED
Enderby's resolution seeking the repeal of legislation preventing a man from standing for office if his taxes were in arrears on the grounds that a municipality might lose a valuable man thereby was not endorsed.

Another move by Enderby, seeking a moratorium on sinking fund principal, was turned down as a most dangerous place of legislation.

Kamloops was supported in a move to have the provincial elections commissioner empowered to take declarations of householders and trades license holders. That city also secured support for the automatic registration of people paying license fees and poll and road taxes.

QUASH HOSPITAL TAX
Another move by Kamloops asked that municipalities be empowered to collect from householders, trades license holders and employees over eighteen years $1 or $1.25 a month to provide for hospital treatment of people in public wards. The move was made pending possible enactment of a health insurance act.

A Kamloops spokesman stated the move had met support unofficially from organizations in the interior. Such a course, he stated, would not be followed without a plebiscite.

The view was advanced discussion of the matter on the floor of the convention might develop new ideas including the possibility of sweepstakes.

Mayor Leeming, after summarizing the financial status of the taxpayer, stated the levy of the sum suggested by Kamloops would be impossible.

The point had been reached, Mayor Leeming said, where the municipalities had to demand a higher income tax from the government. These matters were, he stated, the greater problem, he added, speaking on the local situation.

The resolution was not endorsed. Kamloops resolution seeking the appointment of mayor or reeve by election by the council of one of its own members.

A resolution from Mateau, stating that efforts were being made by railroads to avoid a just share of improvement tax and asking the government be asked to bring in a more clearly defined and equitable assessment on railway bridges, was not endorsed.

WANTS PROVINCIAL EDUCATION
Nanaimo forwarded a resolution to request the provincial government to remove the educational system from the sphere of civic budgets and have it assumed by the provincial government as a direct moral and monetary obligation.

The preamble to the resolution spoke of the social service burdens placed on the municipalities and outlined the danger to the younger generation with the curtailment of expenditures on education.

The matter was referred to a special committee which will deal with the restoration of grants to municipalities. That committee will bring back a recommendation.

Believing sufficient power was already given municipalities on the matter, the committee turned down an amendment to the Municipal Act to permit payment on real property to be spread in two periods, the first levy in the first part of the year to be paid on the basis of half of the preceding year's levy, and the balance later in the year.

A New Westminster resolution was endorsed seeking an amendment to section 20 of the Municipal Act by adding a clause that "No person shall be held to be disqualified by reason of being an exempted officer of the municipality in receipt of an allowance under the Superannuation Act." The Hudson's Bay Company dining-room. Sessions were scheduled to be resumed at 1:45 o'clock.

BANK OF N.S.
STATUS GOOD

High Percentage of Assets, and Increased Deposits
Seen in Report

An unusually high percentage of cash and readily available assets and an increase of nearly $5,000,000 in deposits feature the 1933 annual statement of the Bank of Nova Scotia, which is published to-day. Current coin, Dominion notes, United States and other foreign currencies, together with the deposit in the central gold reserve, total $36,587,851, which is 15.65 per cent of total liabilities to the public, compared with 14.09 per cent of the previous year. Similarly, readily available assets total $142,388,422, which works out at practically 61 per cent of liabilities to the public. These percentages indicate the unusually strong working capital position of the bank, enabling it to give full assistance to industry and enterprise in any expansion of business that may occur. Total deposits of $207,992,360 show an increase of practically $5,000,000 or 2.4 per cent over last year, the increase being almost wholly in deposits not bearing interest.

On the assets side, investments made up of Dominion and provincial securities, municipal securities, railway and other bonds, all shown at not exceeding market value, total $79,190,271, an increase of $4,001,291. The increase is entirely represented in Dominion, provincial and municipal securities, investments in railway and other bonds showing a decrease of $112,250.

Call loans in Canada and abroad total $11,010,208 compared with $15,245,051 in 1932. Current loans in Canada of $97,117,482 show a slight increase. Current loans elsewhere than in Canada at $13,132,518 show a reduction of $507,365. The total assets of the bank are increased from $264,914,117 to $270,316,733.

Notwithstanding the difficult conditions which prevailed in 1933, the bank has been able to maintain its earnings at a creditable level. Profits amount to $2,035,900 as compared with $2,303,434 in 1932. Dividends to the amount of $1,500,000 were paid. Tax on the bank's circulation required $112,090; the officers' pension fund was credited with $115,000, while $250,000 was written off bank premises. The amount of undivided profits was increased on the year's operations from $678,224 to $637,124.

It is of interest to note that the statement now published is the one hundred and second annual report of the bank, which was established in 1832. The bank has paid dividends uninterruptedly since its incorporation.

FLOOD DEATHS
MANY IN CHINA

But Shanghai Says Report
10,000 Lost Lives Is Exaggerated

Canadian Press
Shanghai, Jan. 29.—Sensational Chinese reports claiming 10,000 men, women and children were drowned, frozen to death or are missing in Hopei and Honan provinces along the rising Yellow River, appeared in vernacular newspapers Saturday.

The dispatches, which relief organizations and other sources here considered exaggerated, stated additional thousands were homeless in the inundated districts, with freezing weather adding to their suffering. It was said ice cakes were swirling in the raging currents, endangering rescuers and hampering relief work. Several boats carrying clothing, medicine and supplies have been smashed by the ice, it was added.

SAYS NEWSPRINT
INDUSTRY SAFE

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Canadian pulp and paper industries need have no fear of competition from potential newsprint output from the southern United States, where southern pine is being developed as a pulpwood, if laboratory technicians in Canada progress at the rate they have in the past, G. C. Piche, chief forester, Department of Lands and Forests, Quebec, stated here this week when he was addressing the annual dinner of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers, of which he is president.

Holding up a piece of cellophane, Mr. Piche declared that if technicians in Canada could carry on with experimental work such as had led to the discovery of that by-product of pulp, the Dominion's pulp and paper industry could safely and confidently "let them make newsprint from southern pine, and let them make it all," while Canada turned out substitutes for many articles of import.

He foresaw the time when such products as wool, cotton and many others now being imported, would be replaced by the by-products of pulp as a result of "brilliant and continued research" by the pulp and paper technical experts of this country.

BOY SCOUTS

St. Matthias Troop.—At the regular meeting of the St. Matthias Troop E. C. Manning of the forestry branch gave an illustrated lecture on trees and beauty spots of British Columbia. He also gave the troop some hints on distinguishing some of the more important trees in B.C., demonstrating with samples of the bark, wood and foliage. Slides illustrating the growth of the tree, animal life, beauty spots and ways of the trail in B.C. were shown. Intermingled with his descriptions were comic stories of some of his adventures when he first started cruising in the north.

FIRST CHINESE TROOP
The regular weekly meeting of the First Chinese Troop was held at Good Hope Mission, Scoutmaster Rev. C. Lee took charge of the ceremony and the meeting.

Two of the scouts practiced their second-class first aid and one scout tried to get fire of the first-class badges in the Easter holidays. A knotting competition was held between two patrols.

THIRD VICTORIA TROOP
During the last meeting of the troop a "bun feed" was held. Mr. Manning of the Forestry Department, duplicated the very interesting lecture on forestry which he gave our troop last week. The First Cathedral and some of the First Chinese troop were guests. Plans are underfoot for a banquet and dance to celebrate the troop's twenty-fifth anniversary. The troop was started in 1909 and continued right through the war. Major Wise visited the troop during the evening.

FEARS FOR NUNS

Watertown, N.Y., Jan. 29 (Associated Press).—Belief that four nuns and their driver had been dragged in a canal at Black River was expressed to-day after discovery that an automobile had crashed through a guard rail, rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment and dropped into twenty feet of water.

FIVE PERISH
IN BLIZZARD

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Discovery of three bodies in the Waterhen district near Winnipegosis on the western shore of Lake Manitoba to-day sent the death toll of last week's prairie blizzard to five and left injury to scores in its wake.

Three persons were in hospital fighting for life as result of the blizzard and consequent cold wave that followed a brief fall in the reign of sub-zero temperatures, while five had narrowly escaped death. Others were recovering from lesser frostbites.

MEDICAL RELIEF

Doctors Will Attend Free Only
Jobless Cases Where Death
Threatens

Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Seeking to bring to a climax the dispute over payment of costs of medical services, the Winnipeg Medical Council is declining to render medical assistance to persons receiving unemployment aid except in cases where death threatens.

Meeting here Friday evening, the doctors declared their stand would be altered only when the city or the Manitoba government came to some arrangement with the society to recompense its members for the services rendered. Aid as at present given jobless will be terminated February 1.

The doctors are taking a pledge reading: "I undertake to refuse free medical service in the office, hospital or home to any individual in receipt of relief unless an emergency exists. An emergency is one in which life is in imminent danger and for which immediate action is required."

PRESBYTERIAN Y.P.S.

The first of a series of inter-city debates was held recently in the Chinese Presbyterian Church. The subject of the debate was, "Resolved: That the Church is Keeping Her Hold on the Young People." The debate was very closely contested, the judges having difficulty in arriving at a decision, as the work of both teams was excellent. The decision was awarded the affirmative. The judges were H. Bourne, N. Mayers and G. A. Hedden; timekeeper, George Warren.

Refreshments and a short musical programme were presented by the Chinese Y.P.S.

METEORITE SEEN

Brampton, Ont., Jan. 29 (Canadian Press).—Illuminating the countryside for miles around, a large meteorite dropped earthwards near here Friday night, but its resting place is yet undetermined. Chief of Police R. Eiderfeld of Streetsville reported he had seen the fiery object fall in the direction of Brampton. "It was certainly larger than ordinary meteorites," he said. "It was like a skyrocket with a trail of fire, and it cut a vivid streak through the sky."

Associated Press
Rome, Jan. 29.—Japanese Ambassador Hajime Matsushima, acting on instructions from Tokyo, called on Premier Mussolini Friday evening and asked for an explanation of a recent article by Il Duce on the Far East, it was learned here.

Japanese resentment was aroused by the article called "The Far East," in which Premier Mussolini made several pointed references to Japan. The visit could not be called a formal protest, it was said at the Japanese embassy, but the ambassador was instructed to say the article had created a "painful impression" with the Japanese government.

However, the ambassador stated Premier Mussolini had explained to the former's satisfaction he had not intended directing the article against Japan.

SILVER OUTPUT
SHOWS DECLINE

New York, Jan. 29.—The American Bureau of Metal Statistics to-day reported output of silver by major producers of the world declined during December compared with November.

Tentative estimates place Mexican output at 6,000,000 fine ounces compared with 6,033,000 in November, and the United States, second largest producer, turned out 1,563,000 fine ounces against 1,663,000. Production in Canada amounted to 1,131,000 ounces compared with 1,474,000.

Production in other countries brought the total for December to 13,585,000 ounces, compared with 14,158,000 in November.

Preliminary figures show world production for the year 1933 of 151,390,000 ounces contrasted with actual output of 169,232,000 ounces in 1932.

SERIES OF FIRES
ANGER FARMERS

Tillsonburg, Ont., Jan. 29.—Angered because of a series of fires on the ninth concession of Dereham, near here, a mob of 800 farmers stormed the home of Harold Hunley, twenty-nine, and only prompt arrival of Chief of Police B. Reynolds saved the man from a manhandling. Hunley was in Windsor stock jail to-day, held for questioning by provincial police.

IN CHURCH CRISIS

The German church crisis brought on by the effort of Ludwig Mueller (above), Archbishop-designate, to put Protestantism under a Nazi dictatorship, took a dramatic turn when Prussian police raided the homes of members of the clergy opposing the Bishop's rule. Mueller previously had been summoned to confer with President Von Hindenburg on a means of effecting peace.

FOUR HELD FOR STATION HOLDUP

Canadian Press

Red Deer, Alta., Jan. 29.—Four men who are alleged to have held up the service station operator at Penfold and robbed him of $30, and some gas and oil early yesterday, are in police cells here to-day following their capture by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and a posse of farmers and citizens, who staged an all-day search for the quartette.

According to police the men gave their names as Guy Hilt, Penticton, B.C., and Nole Hagason, Francis Wilson and Albert Whalen, all three of Calgary. Police said they travelled south in a sedan reported stolen in Edmonton.

The four men who held up the service station bound the operator, serviced their car and sped south. By the time the operator had freed himself by wriggling out of the ropes, the bandits had a half hour start. When they were finally captured, police said they had no weapons on them, but alleged they were in possession of several stolen articles.

ANTI-SEMITISM

Challenge at Jewish Congress to Put Own House in Order

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 29.—A challenge to Canadian Jewry to "put their own social and economic house in order and thus remove the grounds" for anti-Jewish attacks, and a warning that immediate steps along educational lines must be taken to combat a rising tide of anti-Semitism in western Canada was issued by Louis Rosenberg of Regina at the opening session of the Canadian Jewish Congress here.

"While it is true that Jews have just as much right to have among themselves sinners and saints as other people, we are not in position to tolerate such luxuries, if luxuries they be," he said.

"Those few among us who may be tempted from time to time to follow the line of least resistance for their own profit must have it sharply brought to their attention by the combined weight of Jewish public opinion that Jewry cannot tolerate such diversions," he said. "We must require from all those who aspire to public honors in our Jewish communities a line of conduct which will bring deserved respect and honor not only from the Jewish community, but from all mankind."

"Although the study of the prevalence of anti-Semitism in Canada and the setting-up of the necessary machinery for combatting it are important problems which must receive the attention of this congress, I would not have you believe for a moment that they are the most important of all. If this organization is to become permanent, as I am sure all of us desire, and if your decisions are to be of lasting benefit to the Jewish population of Canada, they will not only have to be defensive, but also constructive."

Dr. S. Margoshes, of the American Jewish Congress, denounced "Jewish overlords, self-appointed protectors of Jewish welfare" whom he declared deliberately abstained from co-operating in the attempt to unite world Jewry. He described them as "charity Jews," wealthy men who refused to accept the responsibility for social changes in Judaism when it extended beyond the national field.

"Dr. Margoshes had told us of an interesting situation which perhaps is applicable to the United States, but not to this country," declared Chairman S. W. Jacobs, president of the Dominion executive, amid applause.

WINNIPEG MAYOR IS CHALLENGED

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—A challenge to debate whether the church had failed in its work was flung at Mayor Ralph Webb of Winnipeg last night by Canon Bernal Heeney preaching at St. Luke's Anglican Church.

"I understand," said Canon Heeney, "that during my absence from the city Mayor Webb has spoken of the failure of the church. To him, I say the church has not failed. If all men asported the church like Mayor Webb?

Then there would be no church to fail." Canon Heeney was referring to remarks made by Mayor Webb when he welcomed members of the Oxford group to the city recently. The mayor was quoted as saying had the church achieved its full objectives there would have been no need for a movement such as instituted by the Oxford group.

TO "SELL" CANADA

In the estimates tabled in the House of Commons last Friday there was an item of $200,000 for publicity and advertising purposes in the United Kingdom and Continental Europe. The appropriation is to support a drive to "sell" Canada on the other side of the Atlantic. It is an entirely new item and the fund is to be administered by Hon. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London.

Canada has a very great variety of the products of farm and factory to sell in other lands because she produces much more than she needs to satisfy her own requirements. But under the present governmental dispensation at Ottawa she thinks she ought to do all the selling and very little of the buying. It would be quite satisfactory for Canada if it worked out that way in practice; but it does nothing of the kind. Just as soon as this country makes it more difficult—through the erection of new tariff barriers—for other countries to buy from us, those countries give us a good dose of our own medicine and cut down their purchases from us. There is nothing complicated about the operation of this normal process. International trade is an exchange of commodities. But in the last few years most of the nations of the world have got it into their heads that there is such a thing as a one-way trade. Canada has discovered, to her cost, there is no such thing.

Let Canada try to "sell" Canada to Europe by all means; but if $200,000 is to be spent on advertising and other forms of publicity merely to advocate selling without the suggestion that there will be buying as well on this country's part, it would be better to keep the money in the Dominion and circulate it among the needy.

Canada recently has persuaded the British government to cut down her imports of Russian lumber by 200,000,000 feet this year in the hope that some of the orders for this amount might come to this country. But the general opinion among Canadian experts in London is that the net result of this will be greater sales of lumber to the United Kingdom by other northern European countries, or that Russian lumber will go through those channels.

The point about this lumber controversy as far as it concerns the publicity vote is the claim by British industrialists that it may mean a loss of business to Britain of about $5,000,000, which Russia would have placed there if the Canadian protest had not succeeded. If this should turn out to be the case, there will be that much less purchasing power for Great Britain in response to our campaign to "sell" Canada over there.

SPEAKING WITHOUT THE BOOK

Some of the newspapers that support the present government at Ottawa really ought to consider some of the statements to which they lend their authority. Let us take the case of The Brandon Sun, for example, which says that "Mackenzie King didn't reduce the national debt while there was a chance to do it."

This statement is simply not in accordance with the facts as disclosed on page 845 of The Canada Year Book for 1933, "issued by authority of Hon. H. H. Stevens," the Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce, where these figures are set out:

1923$2,453,776,869	1927$2,347,834,370
19242,417,783,275	19282,296,850,233
19252,417,437,686	19292,225,504,705
19262,389,731,069	19302,177,763,959

Most Canadian newspapers, of course, have The Canada Year Book among their works of reference. If The Brandon Sun has not secured its copy for 1933, it might find it useful to get one if only to prevent it from indiscretions such as that to which we have referred. Incidentally, if it turned to page 516 of the same issue it would discover some interesting, but disturbing, figures about Canada's decline of trade in the last three and a half years.

GERMANY AND POLAND

Last Friday the newspapers of this country printed a dispatch from Berlin of less than a dozen words; but it contained information of vital importance to Europe in particular and to the world as a whole. It merely announced that "Germany and Poland concluded a ten-year non-aggression pact to-day." On Saturday morning the newspaper editors of Britain obviously rubbed their eyes and used up quite a bit of time to recover from the effect of an announcement which had come with such startling suddenness.

The agreement is being regarded in all quarters, to quote one commentator, as "a vast political transformation-comparable only to that achieved in 1925 when the Locarno Pact guaranteeing the frontiers of France, Belgium and Germany came into force." This correspondent further describes what has happened: "Two dictatorships—German and Polish—have signed what amounts to an eastern 'Locarno,' by which they mutually agree to renounce force in all their dealings for the next ten years. The pact of friendship and non-aggression is hailed as the most important treaty in recent years."

The London Times regards the new pact as an admirable achievement for European diplomacy, and says it must put an end to the agitation for revision of Germany's eastern boundaries which for long, of course, has caused such a great deal of bitterness. Now, however, the governments at Berlin and Warsaw have undertaken without reservation to settle all disputes on the basis of the Kellogg Pact. Throughout Western Europe to-day this engagement is accepted as a foundation for peace based on goodwill. Future German-Polish relations are consequently regarded as brighter than they have ever been before.

If Poland and Germany live up to this agreement, it means that the danger of war over the Polish Corridor, which has been the subject of many Nazi demonstrations against Germany's eastern neighbor, need no longer cause Europe alarm. The Balkan countries, it will be recalled, have entered into similar pacts between themselves. But there still remains the difficulty of composing the armaments wrangle between France and Germany. Germany contends that the other nations who disarmed her by the Treaty of Versailles should keep their promise and disarm down to her level. France is by no means convinced that Germany is as helpless in the matter of armaments as she persists in making out. And France knows what it feels like to be invaded. She has gone through the mill more than once.

Perhaps before very long the world will come to its senses and realize that if it were to spend the five billion dollars which it at present is spending annually on armaments—or even half the amount—for five years on improving the lot of the peoples of the world, posterity would be able to look back upon the carnage that took place between 1914 and 1918 in a more generous spirit. Not until the nations stop wasting money on preparation for war, however, will it be possible genuinely to do fitting honor to the memory of those millions who were killed in the "war to end war."

A VANISHING CLASS

The year 1932, says The Literary Digest, may perhaps be considered the worst year of the depression. True, the indexes went lower last year, but the upswing under the impetus of the Roosevelt "New Deal" gave a recovery flavor to the summer and fall.

At any rate, 1932 was hard on millionaires. Revenue bureau figures are now out with interesting information on the 1932 incomes on which taxes were paid last year. At the height of the boom, the year 1929, there were actually thirty-eight persons paying taxes on incomes of over $5,000,000 each. For 1932 there was not a single income of this size reported. The $5,000,000-income man had vanished. Indeed, there was a shrinkage in all the big incomes. Whereas there were 513 incomes of a million dollars and over reported in 1929, there were only twenty in 1932. The Digest gives the following table to show how sadly the big incomes dropped off between 1929 and 1932:

Net Income Class	1929	1932
$1,000,000 to $1,500,000	234	12
$1,500,000 to $2,000,000	123	3
$2,000,000 to $3,000,000	67	3
$3,000,000 to $4,000,000	32	2
$4,000,000 to $5,000,000	19	2
Over $5,000,000	38	..

To take the place of the multi-millionaire the United States government seems to be depending on the little man, of the $5,000 class. For 1932 it was this class that showed the largest number of returns, the largest net income and the highest amount of tax paid. But fancy having to struggle along on a million dollars a year!

WASHING DIRTY LINEN

It is not often, thank heaven, that the public is asked to put up with a display quite as nauseating as the current one which centres about the marital difficulties of a crooner and his wife.

Just why some way of washing all this exceedingly dirty linen in something approaching privacy could not have been found is not at all clear.

It may be that those who live by the bright light of publicity feel impelled to die by it also; but it does seem that some adviser or other might have had the good sense to keep a good deal of this corked up where it would not offend the nostrils of the public.

Human nature being imperfect, bitter disagreements between husbands and wives are not uncommon; hence society has to support divorce courts. But it is at least possible to get a divorce without shouting all the gruesome details from the housetops.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE MONSTER AT THE COAST

The Winnipeg Tribune

There is a monster at the coast, right enough, but there is reason to doubt whether his name is Cadborosaurus, or even Ogopogo. It would be harsh to suggest his name to be Prevarication. Rather it is probable his name is Invention, out of Necessity, stired by Publicity.

Victoria has two sound daily newspapers, and on them are employed several newspapermen fertile in ideas and resourceful beyond ordinary. On their staffs are also to be found—looking directly at the editor of The Times—men with an abundant sense of humor, sometimes in the past given a practical turn. More than once in the past strange discoveries in natural history have been reported from Victoria, discoveries which caused tremendous interest among scientists until the lid was blown off the joke.

There may or may not be a strange mammal disporting himself or herself in the neighborhood of Vancouver Island. There is some fairly substantial evidence that something of the kind has been seen. At any rate the evidence cannot be dismissed as wholly fabricated. But the daily news stories emanating from Victoria are suspiciously glib. They demonstrate resourcefulness rather than precision, imagination rather than scientific accuracy.

Let us put this on a frank and friendly footing. Let us admit that Victoria is a winter resort, and an attractive one. Let us accept it that Victoria has the finest of roads, excellent hotels, interesting gardens, and a pleasant and bracing climate the year round. Let us say, once and for all, that a winter vacation at Victoria leaves nothing to be desired. Let the fact be blazoned, if necessary, on the front pages of all the newspapers in the country every day. And then let us return to facts, if possible, on this question of the sea serpent. Let news on this interesting question be news, if any, and not speculations as to whether gooducks are the eggs from which Cadborosaurus are hatched. Let us have facts, if facts there be, or otherwise let Victoria forever hold her peace.

A THOUGHT

Loose Ends

Mr. Shaw attempts a dismal deed—a danger to the King is foreseen—we are asked to go north, but to what?—Poets are too pampered these days—with grave danger to literature—and anyone can black-guard a whole people.

By H. B. W.

OXFORD

MR. SHAW (the one and only) has been lecturing the English people on their English and has disgraced the notable prophecy that if the King of England ever gives a radio broadcast in an Oxford accent, he will be swept from the throne by a spontaneous uprising of his indignant people. There is probably something in this, but Mr. Shaw and his committee, who supervise radio pronunciation, are undertaking rather loathsome work. They are attempting to standardize the British speech and eliminate such curious outcroppings as Oxford, which actually are the variations which make the language so interesting.

Probably, in the end, by the intensive use of radio, they will succeed. We shall have a speech common to the entire empire, which will sound precisely like a radio announcer ululating on the virtues of someone's cold cream, gargar, or ham. Gone will be the good burr which seems to be the very voice of Scotland's rough strength, the jolly brogue without which the Irish will be like everybody else, the true twang of the cockney, which makes your Londoner feel homesick—all the infinite variations of accent which distinguish men, give them a footing of their own in the world, help to save the individual from being flattened entirely under the steam-roller of these times.

It will be a pity if these variations of English disappear. It would be a pity even if we lost our own Victorian accent, which has been somewhat dishonored of late. Like all the more curious distortions of our mother tongue, this remarkable native dialect of Vancouver Island should be preserved, even if it is fast becoming unintelligible to Canadians; and lest it disappear altogether, phonograph records should be made of it; say at the nineteenth hole of one of the golf clubs, or when some old-timers are discussing the C.C.P.

These records should be placed in the museum, where the Victorian fauna may live among the other native fauna, now fast becoming extinct. If the King were to use the Victorian tongue in a radio broadcast the people would not rise up and drive him from the throne, as Mr. Shaw fears in the case of the Oxford accent. Instead there would be prayers throughout the kingdom for His Majesty's health and his physical removal. But this is not likely to happen, because the King's broadcasts are always in English.

NORTHWARD

MR. GEORGE MURRAY, who used to be a newspaper man before he became a dirt farmer in Lillooet and a member of the Legislature (showing you that even a newspaperman may be redeemed, I mean by becoming a dirt farmer, of course), has been campaigning of late with passion and enthusiasm for a railway into the high north. He wants to open up the north as far, I believe, as the Mackenzie Basin, to farming. There, he says, we can put our unemployed youth and end the depression. It sounds fine at service club luncheons, and I hope Mr. Murray gets his chance to lead this great trek into the wilderness, with his covered wagon, his plough and trusty gun.

That, to a dirt farmer like George, is life. But a poor imitation farmer like me, without the advantages of a dirt-farmer education in Lillooet, must be excused if he fails to understand at first glance the economics of these splendid adventures. In Canada to-day the farming industry is on its back. The farmers of the prairies are so broke that they can't buy our products. The farmers of the Fraser Valley are talking about a ruinous milk strike because they're selling below the cost of production. Canada has agreed to reduce its wheat export down to a relatively low figure. The United States Government is paying its farmers hard cash for cutting new Japanese heir-apparent is a descendant of the gods, and you will have trouble. Nowadays everyone has large ideas and talks with assurance on the problems of the world. Newsboys discuss the gold standard and street sweepers have violent opinions on the devaluation of the dollar. There is such a babble of this kind of talk, which no one really understands, that a Japanese admiral's attack on a friendly nation is drowned out in the din. But get down to clothes or babies, which every one understands, and you are treading on thin ice. But, as you properly observe, what of it?

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

IF I FORGET YOU
If I forget you and the tender gaze
Which lingers in your eyes and all weak things
All fancies and forsaken waifs and strays
That to your shores the tide of living brings
My time should ever from my mind erase
Your countless valor in adversity.
Your stainless truth, your faith and grace,
Then do not blame, but only pity me!
He who has long been blind at last will find
The years have stolen bright memories
Till he can call no sunset skies to mind
Nor vision streams where dancing shadows play.
If I forget your star in this world's night
Not yours the loss; not yours, but mine,
The blight!

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES,

(From The Times Files)

Hon. William Templeman, Minister of Mines, accompanied by William Sloan and Mrs. Sloan, and by Mr. Templeman's secretary, B. C. Nicholas, arrived in Victoria last evening, and left this morning on a tour of the district of Comox-Alton.

The Victoria School Board met last evening with all the members present. The appropriation for the year again considered and the sum of $119,000 recommended as the amount for the year.

The third rugby game between Victoria and Vancouver in the McKeezie Cup series will take place to-morrow at the Oak Bay Park. Alexis Martin will blow the whistle at 2:45 o'clock.

The crew of the steamer Venture came down last evening on the steamer Princess Beatrice, their vessel having been completely gutted on the Skeena River by fire which was reported in The Times a day or two ago.

At a meeting of the Victoria Board of Trade this morning, with President Simon Leiser in the chair, Col. Prior, president of the Vancouver Island Development League, reported that fifteen delegates who attended the conference here last week had returned to their homes and were now engaged in forming branches of the league, while at the same time Victoria was not moving very actively in action having been commenced. The matter was referred to the Board of Trade Council to the Vancouver Island committee.

WANTS CROWN COLONY

To the Editor:—Why cannot we revert to a Crown Colony with a governor such as Malta, or New Zealand with its commission, with the navy stationed at Esquimaux as of old, and with training ships in Victoria and Vancouver harbors for boys?

Our streets would be practically cleaned up of the homeless, who are aimlessly around them and getting into mischief.

I am sure Britain would supply us with a few ships, such as she did Australia, as a start.

Through Confederation Eastern Canada has robbed the west of her self respect. She takes all and gives nothing in return. Mothers, if you have any thoughts for your boys' future, you will demand that we become a Crown Colony again and have our boys trained for three or four years on training ships, where they would be taught a variety of trades and become self-respecting citizens.

JOHN GILBERT'S WIVES

To the Editor:—We read in Saturday's paper of John Gilbert changing "to fifth wife."

A few weeks ago we read of some monster taking his ninth wife. These poor girls!

How would I overcome this? I would teach never to sacrifice principle for person.

I would teach metaphysics in the schools. I would teach why the Christian faith is the highest and only true religion.

And that the human soul is higher in dignity than all bodies. And that the soul is a spirit, and that when the body returns to dust the spirit through process, progress and trial, returns to God.

And that as the human soul has likeness to God, its Creator, it is our bounden duty to guard from damaging it here, that is, during our sojourn on earth.

And to love all animals, and that while we are separated from them, they expect love of us, as we expect love of God.

Remember Christ and the sparrows. These considerations, which every holy man finds in us in our proper spheres—the realm God made for us.
The beast would diminish in us, and there would be little necessity to start at the wrong end, by resorting to sterilization, etc.

We would realize that marriage is a sacrament, a holy thing.
Our womenfolk are the fashioners of men—when they lose sight of the principle which should be enfolded in love, we lose sight of the race.
When man invokes to the detriment of a principle, he is a menace and should be treated as such, not eulogized.

"MOUNTING DEATH-TOLL"

To the Editor:—Referring to your editorial—"The Mounting Death Toll," which in its first paragraphs and repeated warnings, automobile accidents are still mounting—it seems that in the economy of nature all are not destined to enjoy a full term of life, at least, not at the present stage of evolutionary progress, though there was a time when it was different. To common or natural man terrestrial life is full of uncertainty, hazard and change and if it was not so he would fall in love with it and forget his divine origin.

In early times, and right now where man lives in the natural state, wild animals take a heavy toll in the close settled areas epidemics would ravage the country; hygienic measures having highly controlled this man's craze for speed brings the same grim result, and so it seems that what we look upon as accidents are going to happen under any living condition. All happenings are the result of law of cause and effect and what we look upon as accidents, preventable may not always be so. Seen from our plane the suffering and loss, the agony and sorrow, is only too apparent. Seen from the plane of reality, man's earthly citizenship is merely for the purpose of experience and resulting soul-growth, and whereas life at all times should be regarded as a precious gift and opportunity, the fact that it is suddenly cut short is not in the nature of the calamity it appears to be to us.

All life—human or animal—is of the same source and root, and the time will come when man will accord to the seeming life below him the same sacredness as he does to his own. He himself will then be immune to so-called accidents, not because the chances are wanting, but because he will have attained to enlightenment.

THE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION RACKET

To the Editor:—Results of recent civil service stenographic examinations have recently been published. The holding of this examination was one of the acts of the late government in its dying moment for reasons which may be readily surmised.

In 1931 similar examinations were held, but the fact that these were unnecessary was not made public, and the probable on account of the lack of employment prevailing, no fewer than 750 candidates from all over the province were induced to send in their fees, under the impression that, had passing the examination, they would be in direct line for employment in the civil service of the province. Although 150 passed appointments proceeded on the old patronage lines without regard to the competitive nature of the examination.

On November 25 last, the day on which the latest examination was held, a news item (presumably authorized) appeared in The Colonist, body stating that these examinations were merely being held for the benefit of some who desired to obtain civil service certificates, although without hope of obtaining a position in the service.

May I point out that these examinations were advertised in the press throughout the province under the headings of Help Wanted (Male) and Help Wanted (Female), without the slightest indication that the advertisements were anything but what they purported to be, and according to the press nearly 500 applicants were induced thereby to pay their fee for the examination, as compared with 750 two years previously.

Neither the government nor the civil service commission has power to alter the purpose of the examinations, or the conditions under which they may be held, as these are clearly stated in the Civil Service Act. It is to be hoped that the present government will institute the fullest inquiry into the circumstances, and will order the return of fees which many could ill-afford, to all candidates whether passed or failed. Had similar action to that to which I have called attention been taken by an individual instead of by the government, there can be little doubt that the department would then be immune to so-

SHRINERS NAME NEW OFFICERS

Arthur Dawe Is Potentate; E. E. Leason's Thirty-third Year as Recorder

Arthur W. Dawe of New Westminster will head the Shrine of British Columbia for the next year. He was elected to the office of Most Illustrious Potentate of Glen Temple Saturday evening at the annual convocation held at the Shrine Temple. Officials and other members of the temple from other parts of the province came to the gathering.

Mr. Dawe succeeds Colonel Don. B. Martin, who has held the high office for the last year. Col. Martin now assumes the office of immediate past potentate.

Dr. Frank M. Bryant of Victoria was raised from the office of assistant rabban to that of chief rabban for this year, which means that he is due to succeed Mr. Dawe in the Potentate's office in 1935.

E. E. Leason of Victoria was elected recorder and was specially honored by the gathering for the services he has rendered as he has held that office since the temple was founded here thirty-two years ago.

Edward Williams and Recorder Williams were chosen to accompany the Potentate to Minneapolis this year to attend the Imperial Council meeting.

Other officers chosen were: Executive, Donald E. McKenzie of New Westminster; W. S. Grievie of Vancouver; Robert Morrison of Victoria and Frederick Hartle of Vancouver.

The financial report showed that the temple had ended the year with a cash balance and that all shrine fund requirements on the new temple building had been met.

Following the Shrine dinner at the Empress Hotel there was a dance at the temple.

Next year's convocation will be held in Vancouver.

Novelty Nights At Palais Danse

In addition to the Saturday night dances at the Palais Danse, special novelty nights will be presented to the public every Friday night, commencing February 16. The manager, Ernest Franklin, will proceed to Vancouver to hold an audition when he will engage well known floor acts which have not appeared for Victoria public before. A feature of the 1934 season will be the "regular feller's" night, details of which will be announced shortly.

OBJECTIONS NOT ALLOWED

Attempt of Counsel to Upset Writ on Technicalities Fails

Technical objections advanced by F. C. Elliott, counsel for Commonwealth Productions Limited, against service of a writ on Alena Drummond have not been upheld by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in a judgment handed down Saturday.

Mr. Elliott objected that the form of writ did not give the King his proper title, nor did it state that Alena Macaulay Morrison was chief justice of the Supreme Court, but merely stated chief justice.

When the application was heard it was discovered that the copy of the writ was on an old form printed before the title of the King was changed in 1924 and the judge disposed of this part of the objection as being due to a clerical error, which could not hold.

The original writ was on the proper form.

As far as the title of the chief justice was concerned His Lordship held that the words "chief justice" after the name were sufficient to convey the full title of "chief justice of the supreme court," and there was also the fact that the writ was issued out of the supreme court.

A. F. Wallace Again Heads Machinists

A. F. Wallace was re-elected president of Victoria Lodge 456, International Association of Machinists, at the annual meeting in the F.O.E. Hall recently.

Other officers were also elected and installed by Past President James Turnbull, who, on behalf of members of the local association, presented A. Herberger with a gold chain and engraved pendant as a tribute to the work which he has done during thirty years as treasurer. Mr. Herberger retired from office at the meeting. He has been made a life member.

C. H. Lester was also congratulated on his election as vice-president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council. Officers installed at the meeting were: J. Murkar, financial secretary; C. H. Lester, recording secretary; John Loudon, treasurer; James Turnbull, A. D. Brackenridge, William McFadden and James Turnbull, trustees; inner guard, Louis Schmelt.

At the close of the business a smoking concert was held. Bro. Murkar gave several fine impersonations and sleight-of-hand tricks.

WAIVE FEES IN SAANICH

School Board Abolishes 1933 System; Repeaters and Partial Students Pay

The system of high school fees, instituted by the 1933 Saanich School Board prior to the beginning of the school term last year, was abolished at a special meeting of the new board on Saturday evening, when, on a split vote, with one trustee absent, all fees were waived for pupils who had not matriculated and were not repeating or taking partial courses.

Students outside this category will be called upon to pay the full fee of $40.

The motion to waive the fees, proposed by Trustee Walter P. Jeune and seconded by Trustee William Tomes, was opposed by Trustee Albert E. Hull, who, remaining consistent with his stand last year, when he was one of the chief advocates of the $10 annual fee plan, voted negatively. Trustee F. G. Aldous, the new member of this year's board, who, during the elections, advocated a definite stand on high school fees, asserting they should not be collected if other sources of revenue could be found, was not present.

LEGAL ADVICE GIVEN
The board's action followed the receiving of legal advice as to whether or not it was empowered to break the contract which it made with pupils subject to fees at the beginning of the year. This contract took the form of a registration card which the pupils' parents signed, promising to pay $10 in two payments for the year's education.

On being notified that the board could waive the fees but not raise them, it was decided the system should be done away with until the end of this term, in June.

This new stand taken by the trustees finds its only opposition from Trustee Hull, who opposed the resolution on principle. Chairman W. W. Duncan, while not called upon to vote, has indicated in previous discussions that he opposed fees, this indication being supported by him this morning. Trustee Aldous has also notified the chairman that he is in favor of this stand.

POLICY UNDECEIVED
There was no indication of what the board's intention in establishing a policy for the next school term will be. It is stated, however, that this depends largely upon government action. It has been intimated that the board may allow free education for sufficient number of years to allow a student to complete his original course, after which full fee charges will be imposed. Nothing definite will be decided upon, however, until later in the year.

TABLET HONORS FAMOUS UNIT

A bronze tablet in memory of officers and men of the 7th Battalion C.E.F. who fell in the Great War, will find a permanent place in the main rotunda of the Parliament Buildings here. It will be unveiled at 3.30 p.m. on Saturday, February 10, by Brig.-Gen. V. W. Odium, with Rev. C. C. Owen as officiating chaplain. Officers and men of the First B.C. Regiment, including those who returned from service with the 7th in the Great War, will be present at the ceremony, from all parts of B.C.

INDIAN ORIGIN THEORY GIVEN

The theory that the Indians of the west originated from people who migrated from Mongolia and Siberia with the recession of the ice-cap from North America, was advanced by William A. Newcombe, archaeologist, before a well-attended meeting of the British Columbia Historical Association in the Provincial Archives on Friday evening.

He voiced the opinion the migrating tribes, after crossing over by way of the Bering Sea and the Aleutians, proceeded to the Mackenzie basin, which, he believed, was ice free earlier than other parts of the north, and made their way to the southern British Columbia coast back through the Rockies.

M. Newcombe dealt with his subject from three angles, the paleontologic, anthropologic, and archaeological, finding evidence in all to substantiate his theories.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

FORCING FOOD DEFEATS ITS OWN END

It is always disappointing to discover one of my "faithful readers" showing herself unacquainted with some of my strongest and most frequently expressed convictions. Recently a mother wrote, "I read your column daily and get much benefit from it," but went on to remark, "My nine-month-old baby refuses orange juice and cod liver oil. I force a spoonful of the cod liver oil daily, but he won't take the orange juice. He just spits it out. Do you think the concentrated oil is good as the pure?"

BUILDING ANTAGONISM

It is never advisable to force a child to take any food. When a child is forced to swallow unwillingly, he becomes antagonistic to the taste, likewise the utensil used, and the person doing the feeding. It is not a victory when, at the price of one spoonful of oil, the baby is conditioned against future doses, against the spoon and the mother herself.

Your second question is unfortunately worded. Both plain and concentrated oils are "pure," and both offer vitamin D to the system but in entirely different forms. I like the plain oil because of its high vitamin A content. The concentrated oils are excellent to us under a doctor's advice and with due regard to proper dosages. Use

DOCTOR'S ANSWERS To Questions

By T. H. Wilson, M.D.

Q. When I get bloated with gas, have indigestion, feel nervous, sleepless, isn't there some way I can get relief?

A.—Eat carefully, drink hot water one-half hour before your breakfast. Avoid greasy foods and take a tonic and blood purifier, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, easily obtained at any drug store. Try this for about thirty days and see if it does not help. Also eat plenty of fresh vegetables and drink milk.

Attention!

We have a few traded-in Fur Coats left. Read the details on page 9, and if you are wise and thrifty you will act at once.

Weddings

A wedding of local interest took place on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Nanaimo, when Canon Hitchcock united in marriage Miss Ada Beck, second daughter of Mrs. J. A. Beck and Thomas Milford Inkster, second son of Alderman and Mrs. P. R. Inkster, Mill Street.

The church was decorated with spring flowers, daffodils, narcissi and tulips. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Marian Stephenson, and Mr. Russell Inkster, brother of the groom, acted as best man. During the signing of the register Mrs. W. F. Drysdale sang "Because," accompanied by A. Dugmore at the organ. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Albert Addison, and looked charming in a floor-length gown of white silk-crepe lace, which featured a cavalier cape of the same material edged with a wide band of white silk net. She also wore a white French corded toque with tiny white veil of Valenciennes lace finished with small bows of silver ribbon. The ensemble was completed with white slippers trimmed with silver, and long white lace mitts. The bride's shower bouquet was of pink rose buds and freesias.

A reception was held following the ceremony with spring flowers, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, and lighted with ivory tapers in silver sconces. The honeymoon will be spent in Bellingham.

HOWARD-TROTTER

Of interest to local friends of the bridegroom was the marriage performed January 23 by the Rev. Father Nichol at the rectory of Holy Rosary Cathedral, Vancouver, when Helen, second daughter of Mrs. M. Trotter of Onoway, Alta., became the bride of Mr. Clarence S. Howard, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Howard of 2083 York Street.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. L. Young, and Mr. Archie Ross supported the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. An out-of-town guest was Mrs. W. R. Hobday of Victoria, sister of the groom. The couple will reside in Vancouver.

Vocal Students In Fine Recital

Miss Eva Baird presented a number of her vocal pupils in recital at her studio, Laurel Lane, Friday evening. Both in the performance of the senior pupils and in those less advanced was apparent the excellent tuition received in production, tone and control and in the important matter of enunciation, and the various numbers were most happily chosen.

The programme in detail was as follows: Miss Ora Pearson, three Bergettes by Werckin; David Bird, "The Sweetest Flower That Blooms," "Mrs. John Gough," "The Bells," and "Langi Caro Bene"; Jennie Hall, "The Star" and "At Parting"; Violet Wilson, two Russian songs, "O Thou Willow Harvest Field" and "Dissonance," and two Irish songs, "Silent O'Moyle" and "Wild Pigeons"; Richard George, "Rose of Tralee," "Clare Lough," "When Song is Sweet," "William," "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice"; Muriel Thomson, "Danza Panchella" and "Voche Sapete"; Mrs. Snape, "Little Silver Ring"; "The Rose Tree"; Kathleen Lavel, "Lass With the Delicate Air" and "When I Was Seventeen." Miss Eileen Dumbleton played the accompaniment in her own inimitable way.

Noted Soldier to Address Chapter

Sir Charles Delme-Radcliffe, who served for some time in East Africa and on the Upper Nile, will give an informal talk on "Service Under the Foreign Office" before the members of the H.M.S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E. and their friends, at the home of the regent, Mrs. Clifford Collison, 805 Newport Avenue, to-morrow evening at 8.30 o'clock.

The lecture will form one of the series being arranged under the empire study group plan, suggested by the National Chapter I.O.D.E., as a means of stimulating interest and increasing knowledge in the various countries of the empire, and gaining a better understanding of the many widely differing problems affecting the component parts of the British commonwealth of nations.

PORTLAND MAN SUES AIMEE

Claims $10,000 for Evangelist's Failure to Stage Debate With Atheist

Portland, Ore., Jan. 29.—Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, California evangelist, is defendant in a $10,000 damage action filed in circuit court here for her alleged failure to provide an opponent in her first scheduled northwest debate against a nationally-known atheist.

Through his attorneys, James O'Neil of Seattle brought the action. In his complaint O'Neil stated he was forced to refund tickets for the first debate scheduled, because the atheist was not there. As a result of the initial failure, subsequent debates failed.

O'Neil was to receive 40 per cent of the gross receipts from ten northwest debates arranged, the complaint stated. It was further alleged that on December 19, 1933, the evangelist entered into a contract with O'Neil for the ten debates against a nationally-known atheist.

She appeared here Wednesday and Thursday night with Charles Lee Smith, founder of a national atheist organization, as her opponent. The appearance was advertised on billboards.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1934

Benefic aspects dominate strongly today, according to astrologers, and the day is active. The partial eclipse of the moon takes place on this date.

The planetary conjunctions hold for government officials, many of whom will be targets for many shots of bitter criticism.

The stars appear to presage a tightening of the reins of authority in this country as in Europe, for evil days have not all passed. This is an auspicious day for dealing with banks and bankers. Money bagholders are gradually being disposed of, it is foretold, but not until there is much excitement regarding finance.

Newspapers and the radio now should profit through wide interest in national and international affairs.

Persons are under a sway encouraging to their organizations, which will more and more champion civic and federal reform.

Again the control of the liquor traffic is to become of grave concern. It is foretold, and club women will concern themselves with new forms of old problems.

Drinking is to be frowned upon more and more by young folk, who are to set the fashion of severe condemnation for those who are not advocates of temperance.

Persons whose birthdate is 11 have the augury of a year of rapid development in business or other interests. Women should be very lucky.

Children born on this day probably will be called to take themselves seriously and to devote attention to what most interests them. Subjects of this sign usually are industrious.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States, was born on this day, 1882. Others who have celebrated their birthday include Walter J. Damrosch, 1887, composer and director of orchestras; Charles Rolin, 1881, noted French historian; and George Alfred Townsend, 1841, author.

Court Dismisses Husband's Claim That Her Purchase of Debentures Illegal

Canadian Press

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Claim that a wife's purchase of debentures was illegal and that the money spent on them should be returned to the husband as head of the family had been dismissed today by Mr. Justice Edouard Fabre, in rendering judgment against Rose Sedocky, wife of Alexis Lafram, who sought $15,000 from Rene T. Leclerc Inc., representing fifteen debentures of the Beauharnois Power Corporation.

While she could not dispose of immovable property, Mrs. Leblanc, separate as to property, could however, dispose of movables and even acquire immovables, the judge ruled. Times and conditions change, he added, and a broader interpretation must be given to legal ruling of former periods.

Debentures in the Beauharnois Power Corporation amounting to $15,000 were sold to have been bought by Mrs. Leblanc without the knowledge of her husband between December, 1929, and February, 1930.

Piano and Vocal Pupils Are Heard

A well-attended recital of varied interest given by pupils of the Victoria Musical Festival, very ably acted as chairman and presented awards of the Royal Schools of Music to Sheila McAllister, Margaret Worth, Dorothy Fuller, Peggy Lowe, Peggy O'Neill, the last three receiving honorable mention and distinctions.

The following took part in the programme: Piano number, Cecile and Margaret Worth, Peggy Lowe, Marian Skellern, Billy Inglis, Nancy Kyle, Laura MacBride, Paul Brenda and Barbara Smith, Sheila McAllister, Constance Barlow, Morse Hatt, Brenda Woodward, David Jones, Kenneth Cave, Peggy O'Neill, Dorothy Fuller, Phyllis Awmack, Mildred Irwin, Winifred Moorhouse, vocal numbers, Constance Barlow, Lillian Williams, Mary McLone, Margaret Worth, Evelyn and David Campbell and Rex Jackson.

Publicity continues subject to the best possible direction of the stars, encouraging much advertising of principles and policies of government.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

THERE'S ZEST AND TASTE TO THESE LEMON PIES

By Sister Mary

Lemon pie always is a popular dessert and can be varied in so many ways that it may be served often without becoming monotonous. It is a particularly happy choice just at this season of the year when pie "timber" begins to be scarce and the spicy steamed puddings seem a bit wintry.

Lemon meringue pie is a universal favorite and very easy to make. If an extra thick meringue is liked use two eggs in place of one as suggested in the recipe.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE
One cup granulated sugar, 1½ cups boiling water, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 lemon, 1 egg, baked pie shell.

Mix and sift sugar, salt and cornstarch. Be sure the cornstarch is completely blended with the sugar. Add grated rind of lemon. Add boiling water, stirring vigorously. Cook and stir until mixture is clear. Add lemon juice and yolk of egg. Beat well and remove from fire. Let cool and turn into a baked pie shell. Beat white of egg with 2 teaspoons water and a few grains of salt until stiff but not dry. Fold in 3 tablespoons sifted granulated sugar and spread through over lemon filling. Put in a cool oven for fifteen minutes to puff and color the meringue. Serve cold.

The meringue will not "weep" if the filling is cool before covering.

Lemon sponge pie is made rich with eggs and provides a quite nourishing dessert. It is suitable to serve with a fish dinner or luncheon but should not follow a heavy meat course.

LEMON SPONGE PIE
One and one-fourth cups sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 1½ teaspoons salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup water, 1 large lemon, plain pastry.

Line a deep pie dish with plain pastry. Mix and sift sugar, flour and salt. Rub in butter and add grated rind and juice of lemon. Mix thoroughly and add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Add water and beat with a rotary beater. Beat white of eggs on a platter with a wire whisk until stiff and dry. Fold into first mixture and turn into the pastry lined pie dish. Put into a hot oven for ten minutes. Reduce heat and bake 40 minutes in a slow oven. The oven should be 425 degrees F. when the pie is put in and the heat should be reduced to 324 degrees F. to finish baking.

TO-MORROW'S MENU
Breakfast—Sliced oranges, poached eggs on milk toast, whole wheat and raisin muffins, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Corn soufflé, stewed

Encouraging signs of a definite improvement in general business conditions are contained in the forty-first annual report of the Great-West Life Assurance Company.

The amount of new business issued by the company during 1933, totalling over $54,000,000, shows an increase over the amount issued in the previous year. There is a considerable improvement in the persistency of the business in force due mainly to the fact that policyholders are placing their life insurance at the top of their budget—among their indispensable necessities.

The demand for policy loans decreased considerably during the last year and the amount of policy loans shown in the assets for December 31, 1933, was less than it was for the previous year. This official of the company consider satisfactory.

During the year the Great-West Life paid to living policyholders $15,280,631.87 and to beneficiaries, as the result of death claims, $3,877,527.32.

Insurance in force amounts to over $550,000,000 and assets total $134,762,165. These figures indicate how important the company is to the large number of Canadian and United States citizens who are insured in it.

The conservative investment policy for which the Great-West Life has long been noted is a factor which has made possible for the company to announce an increase in profits to policyholders for the second consecutive year. Additional purchases of high grade bonds have been made and a strong liquid position has been maintained.

Lodge Banquet—The annual banquet of Lodge Princess Alexandra will be held February 1 at 8.30 o'clock in the Sons of England Hall. Social and dance for members and friends at 8.30.

Send Your Overcoats to New Method CLEANERS & DYERS

Encouraging signs of a definite improvement in general business conditions are contained in the forty-first annual report of the Great-West Life Assurance Company.

The amount of new business issued by the company during 1933, totalling over $54,000,000, shows an increase over the amount issued in the previous year. There is a considerable improvement in the persistency of the business in force due mainly to the fact that policyholders are placing their life insurance at the top of their budget—among their indispensable necessities.

The demand for policy loans decreased considerably during the last year and the amount of policy loans shown in the assets for December 31, 1933, was less than it was for the previous year. This official of the company consider satisfactory.

During the year the Great-West Life paid to living policyholders $15,280,631.87 and to beneficiaries, as the result of death claims, $3,877,527.32.

Insurance in force amounts to over $550,000,000 and assets total $134,762,165. These figures indicate how important the company is to the large number of Canadian and United States citizens who are insured in it.

The conservative investment policy for which the Great-West Life has long been noted is a factor which has made possible for the company to announce an increase in profits to policyholders for the second consecutive year. Additional purchases of high grade bonds have been made and a strong liquid position has been maintained.

Villiers made the presentations, and gave a short history of the Order of Saint John and ambulance work from the time of the early crusaders to Jerusalem. First year certificates were issued to I. R. Bowen, E. J. Bowen, M. Dumont, E. G. Hutchings and R. D. Bowen. Second year certificates were presented to L. Cleland, E. Thomson, C. Laver, W. E. Ardley, W. M. Leighton and J. Callan. Instructor A. ISLAND RANCHER IS FOUND DEAD

Courtenay, Jan. 29.—George Wilfred Endell, a rancher at Northey Lake, twelve miles from Courtenay, was found dead in his home Thursday. He was well known in Courtenay, and is thought to have relations in Victoria and Tacoma, and possibly in Vancouver; but probably no near relatives closer than England. He lived by himself. It is understood that neighbors made inquiries at the house when no signs of activity were observed. He was seventy-nine years of age, and was a native of Stratford-on-Avon, England.

CANADA LIFE FUTURE BRIGHT

Increase of Over $9,000,000
in Assets Shown in Annual Statement

Commenting that a continuance of the company's strength was shown in the balance sheet, Leighton McCarthy, president, in submitting the eighty-seventh annual report of the Canada Life Assurance Company to the annual meeting on Thursday, January 18, stated "that the year's work as a whole has strengthened immensely the fabric of your company and permits us to look to the future with optimism and a vision of greater progress."

An increase of $9,000,000 during the year is shown by the assets, which now total $226,842,892.

The company continued its policy of "safety first" and wrote down securities by $2,233,807 to meet uncertainties created by the world-wide depression. The report indicates that the company's already large holdings of government, government-guaranteed and municipal bonds were increased from a total of $56,369,178 to $67,509,801.

NEW ASSURANCES
New assurances issued during the year, including reinstatements, amounted to $55,546,317. The new paid-for assurances included revivals and increased policies, but excluding dividend additions, totaled $52,687,962. Considerations of over ten million dollars were received by the Canada Life in the sale of annuity bonds. This is an increase of approximately $2,400,000 above the amounts received in the previous year.

Assurances in force at December 31, 1933, amounted to $83,668,334 after deducting death losses, matured endowments and other terminations. The company also made a substantial profit of $1,037,945 on the sale of securities. Payments of $28,058,026 were made during the year under the company's contracts, in settlement of death claims, matured endowments, dividends, annuities and cash values for surrendered policies.

BENEFITS IN DEPRESSION
It is interesting to note that for the four years of the depression this company paid out to its beneficiaries and policyholders a total of more than $106,042,245, or approximately $73,000 per day.

BIRTHDAY OF ASSOCIATION

Banquet and Dance Held by Foul Bay Association

Commemorating the organization of their organization a year ago, members of the Foul Bay Junior Community Association gathered for a banquet and dance in Margaret Jenkins School on Friday evening.

In a short talk, Albert Bevan thanked the members of the association for their co-operation during the year.

Replying to a toast to the city parks board, proposed by Harold Gardner, Alderman John Worthington commended the spirit shown by the community association and expressed the city's appreciation of the initiative of the group in forwarding work on its new park.

In short speeches from Alderman A. McGavin and Alderman J. Adam, thanks were given for the association for its help in establishing Hollywood Park.

Ian Elliott proposed a toast to the seniors who were responsible for the forming of a junior division.

PROUD OF PARK
Percy Payne, as president of the seniors, replied to this and at the same time said thanks were due to the parks board for giving their time and help in providing what he terms the most beautiful little park on the coast.

Sam Gardner then expressed the thanks of the juniors to their president, Albert Bevan, for his tireless efforts in leading the club through a successful year.

The president replied by expressing his thanks and hoping the club would have much continued success through the coming year. He then called on Ernest Butterworth for a speech and to lead in community singing.

In his speech, Mr. Butterworth said it was certainly a surprise to him to see such good spirit in the community and to see such good work being done. He declined, however, to lead the singing, which was done by Albert Bevan. The banquet closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The first annual dance of the association will be held in the Shrine Auditorium Thursday, February 8.

Among those present were: Alderman John Worthington, Alderman J. Adam, Alderman A. McGavin, Mr. Percy Payne, Mrs. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wain, Mr. and Mrs. W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. E. Butterworth, Mr. and Mrs. Pasmor, Mr. F. The Civil Service Examination Racket ment of the Attorney-General would have seen to it that proceedings were instituted.

How long is the Civil Service Act to remain a statute which can be violated or ignored with absolute impunity?

R. ROBERTS, M.P.

Polymer, R.M.D., 4, Victoria, January 8, 1934.

COST OF PRODUCTION

To the Editor:—To be rightly understood in economics one has to watch his step as to definitions. "Raw Material," for instance, is one of those innocent-looking terms that it is so easy to get tripped up on.

Furniture will serve as an example for most, if not all other commodities. The tree in the forest is the logger's raw material, the log in the boom is the lumberman's raw material, the lumber in the dry-dock or wind-rack his finished product. The lumber is the cabinetmaker's raw material, the furniture in the show-window his finished product and the salesman's raw material. In short, until the product is finally marketed and delivered in the home of the ultimate user—the consumer—it is still someone's raw material. The truck-owner, and all other carriers and handlers between forest and mill, mill and workshop, workshop and showroom, showroom and home, add their services to the ultimate cost of the commodity. The glue, metal, leather, polishing material, etc., employed in the process of manufacture, all have a similar history to that of the lumber which it is not necessary to trace here.

So we arrive at the fact that practically no product is finished, but is still raw material to some interest, until it is in possession of the consumer.

Now, as I see it, the consumer has some few rights which all but universally ignored. All those who assist in furnishing him with commodities under our stealthy and ill-balanced system of indirect taxation are heavily fined in the process and every one of them, in order to recoup himself, endeavors to the best of his ability to "pass on" the burden to the ultimate user—the consumer—with profit and interest on his disbursements added. The consumer is the goat, to be fleeced, like any other Angora, of the last tuft available.

Why should the consumer be charged up with a payment so self-increasing, clumsy, wasteful and extortionate? Is there no natural source from which governments, national, provincial and municipal can obtain their revenues?

Trees in the primeval forest have a community value which it is customary to hand away for little or nothing. They should be disposed of competitively. All land on which the process of turning forest trees into furniture takes place has also a strictly community value. That value reaches its highest pitch right under the above mentioned showroom. There is no justifiable reason why it should be absorbed by private individuals or corporations. It is a strictly public fund and should be collected for public purposes. The governing power should confine itself to this, its legitimate revenue, and abolish the present indefensible, ever-growing and self-destructing system of taxation.

Then, and not till then, will the consumer come into his own and get goods, as he has a natural and just right to get them, at the cost of production.

WAR BORN BOYS FAIL IN EXAMS

British Air Officer Finds Tendency to Slack Off in Their Studies

London, Jan. 29.—Do British boys who were born in war time lack grit? This is a question raised by Air-Commander R. H. Verney in a report on the passing-out inspection of aircraft apprentices at the Royal Air Force and wireless school at Cranwell. The apprentices were those who entered in January, 1931.

Where the two previous entries are

Try a "Hospital-Tested" Remedy

Normal health and energy are possible only when the haemoglobin content of the blood is normal. That is because it is the haemoglobin that distributes vital oxygen from the lungs and nutriment from the digestive organs to build body cells and clear the system of poisons.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—long recognized as an efficient blood-builder—were recently put to another authoritative test of their power to increase haemoglobin in the blood-streams of run-down, nervous people. Forty thin-blooded, "tired out" students were "blood tested" before and after a five weeks' treatment at a leading Canadian hospital. The authentic records of the test proved that these Pills are remarkably valuable in restoring strength and vigor.

Almost without exception the patients—male and female—students—showed notable increases in haemoglobin, ranging as high as 22 per cent. They declared that they felt greatly improved in energy and vitality. The doctor in charge of the clinic was surprised by the "extent" of the improvement in so short a time.

Many thousands of benefitted users have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to thank for restoring them to normal health. The same happy experience can be yours. Try a month's treatment. Children and young women in many cases need this "test proven" remedy as much as adults do. Your Druggist can supply you—50 cents a package.

*Individual reports on these forty patients, certified by the hospital pathologist, are on file. (Adv.)

eraged 61.3 per cent and 61.5 per cent in the final examination results, this latter entry, Commodore Verney reports, has obtained an average of only 56.6 per cent. No fewer than fourteen boys failed to obtain more than 50 per cent of the total marks, thus failing to qualify educationally for leading aircraftmen. This was the largest number of failures for some time.

"It is difficult to account for this falling off in the educational standard," the report states, "since the apprentices of this entry must have satisfied the normal qualifications required by the conditions of entry. Their ages give their birth dates as 1915-17, which may have a bearing on this lack of normal development, but undoubtedly they have shown a tendency to lack determination and slack off in their studies through apathy or over-confidence."

"They were also hindered by isolation for minor infectious diseases during the term allocated to revision work."

BIG INSURANCE COMPANY FAILS

British Corporation Collapse Hits 50,000 Motor Policy-holders; Employees Out

London, Jan. 29.—Fifty thousand motorists are affected by an order which has just been made in the Chancery Division for the winding-up of the North and South Insurance Corporation Ltd.

A joint statement was issued by the Ministry of Transport and the Board of Trade calling attention to the order, and adding:

"One effect is to leave risks under the fire, personal accident and motor vehicle policies issued by the North and South Insurance Corporation as from this date, and holders of such policies are advised to take immediate steps to insure elsewhere."

THIRD PARTY RISKS

In particular, holders of motor vehicle policies issued by the North and South Insurance Corporation Limited, covering third party risks should note that such policies no longer afford any financial protection and are reminded that it is an offence under the Road Traffic Act, 1930, to use or cause or permit any other person to use a motor vehicle upon a road unless there is in force in relation to such user such a policy of insurance or security in respect of third party risks as is required by that act.

"Authorities empowered to issue road fund licenses will be unable to accept certificates of insurance issued by the North and South Insurance Corporation as evidence of insurance against third-party risks, and applicants for such licenses should take immediate steps to obtain certificates of insurance issued by some other insurer."

This compulsory winding-up of the company will add point to complaints by motorists that while the law forces them to insure it takes no steps to ensure that their interests are protected.

3,000 EMPLOYEES HIT

Including agents all over the country, employees total nearly 3,000. The petition for the winding up of the company was made by the Board of Trade, on the ground that the firm was insolvent.

The Attorney-General (Sir Thomas Inskip, K.C.) said that the company had been paying out claims under pressure, and rights of insured persons were being gravely prejudiced if it went on meeting last year's claims out of this year's premiums.

It was suggested that the company would be able to raise £50,000 from capital, but that would fall far short of what was required.

Gavin Simonds, K.C. for the company, asked for an adjournment until January 31 pending negotiations with Lloyd's.

PREMIUMS TOO LOW

Mr. Justice Maughan said he did not take the view that those concerned with this company were not gravely to blame for continuing business on lines of the last year.

Whether they knew of the slough into which it was being drawn he could not say. It must have been apparent many months ago, however, that the company had been increasing very largely its annual premium income by accepting policies at a rate which was insufficient to meet the expenses of management and the risks when they matured.

A company of that character, he continued, if allowed to carry on business, would be tiding the holders of policies into the belief that claims would be met in the ordinary way.

People who had taken out policies which they were bound to under the Road Traffic Act—would be relying on policies admittedly granted by an insolvent company.

The judge said the company had obtained an increasing premium income by charging sums which at first appeared attractive, but were really illusory. If he allowed the petition to stand over, policy holders would be living in a fool's paradise, and third parties would have an illusory protection. Beyond all doubt, the company was insolvent.

German psychoanalyst, Dr. Walter Kluge, finds most patients abandon all resistance to psychological influence by steady listening to constantly repeated favorite melody. Splendid business idea! Make any difficult sale easy by steadily playing or singing customer's favorite tune. If customer prefers playing his own accompaniment, of course you'll have to fall back on a Times Classified Ad.

LILLIAN GISH AT DOMINION

Has Leading Role Opposite Roland Young in "His Double Life"

The current feature at the Dominion Theatre is a genial and charming motion picture, which combines the artistry of Lillian Gish and Roland Young, the inspired directing of Arthur Hopkins, and the adroit and often beautiful writing of the late Arnold Bennett. It is "His Double Life," released by Paramount.

The film is replete with mirth-provoking situations. While it tells an interesting and unusual story, it is never obvious or dull in its efforts.

Originally purchased by Arthur Hopkins for a Broadway production, which was to star John Barrymore, the story was selected as Mr. Hopkins' first for the cinema. It is an adaptation of Arnold Bennett's novel, "Buried Alive," which in the play form was one of the most popular offerings in the history of the London stage.

The hero is a shy, artistic genius, played by Roland Young. His valet has been buried under his master's name, and rather than correct the error, Young decides to assume the valet's personality.

EDDIE CANTOR HERE SHORTLY

Aileen Riggins, one of the greatest girl swimmers and divers of this generation, will be seen as one of the Roman slave girls who dances with Eddie Cantor when "Roman Scandals," the banjo-eyed comedian's fourth annual screen musical comedy for Samuel Goldwyn comes to the Dominion Theatre next Monday.

This marks Miss Riggins' debut as a dancer. During her brilliant aquatic career she studied dancing as an aid to grace in diving. She was graduated from the School of the Ballet of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Following her unequalled achievement of winning the Olympic Diving Championship at the age of fourteen, Aileen continued her study of dancing, in the meantime managing to win most of the national diving and swimming titles.

EMPIRE THEATRE

When a beautiful ingenue with singing and dancing talent was needed for "Facing the Music," the B.I.P. film scouts who had espied her at the Comedy Theatre in "Ballyho" immediately thought of Nancy Burne, and within a few hours of arriving at the studio and being tested she was chosen to play in her first film, the leading role. She was given a further contract to appear opposite Gene Gerrard in "My Wife's Mother," now at the Empire Theatre.

MAE WEST AT THE COLUMBIA

Mae West turned down twenty offers from film companies before accepting the one that made her one of the bright stars in the history of the motion picture.

She is glad she finally accepted. She became a national figure after her first starring picture, "She Done Him Wrong." Her second film, "I'm No Angel," with Gary Grant, is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

First offers came when Miss West was on the Los Angeles stage in her play, "Diamond Lil." She refused them because she had another play of her own to produce and could not end her current engagement, even if she had wanted to.

"I'm No Angel" was written by Miss West, as were all of her stage plays. The other feature on this programme is Gracie Field in "Looking on the Bright Side."

SCOTTISH PLAY HERE THURSDAY

The Scottish Musical Comedy Company, whose players pleased Victoria audiences recently, will present their return engagement, "Tam O'Shanter," here next Thursday at the Empire Theatre. The new presentation is a musical comedy adapted from the poems and letters of Robert Burns.

The character of Robert Burns will be played by T. Randolph, marvelous tenor singer. T. McAllister Wallace with his fine baritone voice, will take the part of Tam O'Shanter. Miss Mary McMahon, who has played with Harry Lauder, will take the lovely character part of Mary Morrison.

J. BARRYMORE AT PLAYHOUSE

John Barrymore is starred in "Reunion in Vienna," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of Robert E. Sherwood's smashing Broadway stage hit of last season. In the new film, which comes to-day to the Playhouse Theatre, Barrymore plays the role of the impulsive and irresistible Hapsburg archduke, Rudolf, who returns to Vienna from exile to recapture the memory of times that linger long after the royal reign toppled and the glory of the glamorous court life faded.

This role, created on the stage by Alfred Lunt, with Lynn Fontanne in the feminine lead, is said to match Barrymore's individual talents and personality with flawless fit. It follows his acclaim in "Grand Hotel," "Rasputin and the Empress," "Bill of Divorcement" and "Topaze."

Also being shown on the same programme is "I Loved That Man."

RIENZI OVERTURE WILL BE PLAYED

As an artist Wagner represents the culmination of German romanticism. He became the creator of romantic and combined art. After his early romantic operas and his great historic opera "Rienzi," he wrote "The Flying Dutchman" and "Lohengrin," works in which he first gives evidence of the unity of music and drama, and in which the opera evolves more and more into music drama.

Wagner, however great a musician is not estimated as only a musician. He represents a whole spiritual, intellectual and artistic epoch. The overture to "Rienzi" will be played by the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra under the leadership of Allard de Ridder on Monday, February 5, at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Motion pictures have rarely attempted pictures dealing with the subject of "Design for Living."

Paramount, struck with the amusing entertainment possibilities of the stage play, bought it for a Lubitsch picture and placed a most important cast in the film.

New For Rangers Whip Boston As Eddie Shore Takes Return

THE Regain Leadership Of N.H.L. Section; MIRROR Shore Gets Cheers

Many Veterans in N.H.L. Are Nearing End of Trail

Some Freak and Heart-breaking Basketball Plays

Sister of Twenty Grand Will Campaign This Year

WITH THE National Hockey League campaign just past the halfway mark, the opinion is gaining ground that many of the veterans are nearing the end of the trail, and that before another season gets under way they will be replaced by present-day amateur stars. The success achieved by the Niagara Falls quartette, Jerry Shannon, Jeff Kalbfleisch, Max Kaminsky and Scotty Bowman with the Ottawa Senators, has caused other N.H.L. Club managers to look with interest in the direction of the amateurs, and the latter will be well scouted before the end of the season.

While all the recruits from Niagara Falls have made good, Kaminsky has been the talk of the major circuit, joining the Senators late in the race, the great Niagara centre man has astonished the critics by his point making ability, and to-day he is well up in the scoring list. Coach George Boucher of the Senators believes that if a player is good enough to be signed he should be used as often as possible, and it will be noted the four Niagara players are so-called regulars, leaving only Frankie Finnigan and Billy Beveridge of the old guard to round out the starting team. The signing of Kalbfleisch brought about the release of the popular Danny Cox. He had no luck at all with the Senators on the offensive this season, and at the time of his release had garnered only three points, all assists.

Basketball is full of tricks and uncertain turns of fortune. The chance element carries appeal to the fans. Some incidents which follow are the kind that are heart-breaking to the losing team.

The Indiana University team was playing the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis during the season of 1929. Indiana won in overtime, 37 to 36, on the following play: An Indiana man took a medium shot and the ball rebounded high, hopping momentarily on top of the upper right corner of the backboard. The backboard is two inches thick across the top. The ball hesitated a second and started its perilous trip across the top edge of the same. It rolled very slowly for three feet to the middle of the board where it suddenly lost its balance, falling through the basket.

Before the new ten-second rule was passed, Georgetown, Ill., won a 1 to 0 basketball game by the fairest in sectional tournament. This game depicts one of the sins of stalling.

During the 1932 season Loganport and Lafayette, two of Indiana's finest high school teams, played a game 9 to 9, triple overtime. This is another example of a freak game probably caused by over-cautions and stalling tactics.

A freak basket made in a game between Franklin, Ind., high school and the Masonic Home school team of the same city did not decide the game. A Franklin player took a long shot and an unusually high arc. The ball passed over a cross beam in the ceiling and fell short of the basket, bouncing from the floor against the backboard and through the basket.

One of the most colorful basketball stories ever told is that of the Carr Creek high school team of Kentucky. Five or six years ago the Carr Creek team without the aid of a coach, without suits, without substitutes, and even without a floor, went through a successful season and topped it off by making a fine showing in the national tournament at Chicago. They played in overalls at the state tournament at Lexington, Ky.

Calgary Badminton Champions Decided

Calgary, Jan. 28.—The city badminton crown won for the last two years by Eric Yorath rested to-day on the youthful brow of Keith Gibson, crack Gloucester Club junior, who took the men's singles title by downing Alf Savary, 15-12, 9-15 and 15-11 in the final here Saturday.

Miss Barbara Jarman, Calgary and Alberta women's singles champion, successfully defended her title by defeating Miss Rosalie Ellis, in the final, 11-7, 13-10.

Defence Star Receives Tremendous Ovation as Team Is Beaten 4 to 2

CHICAGO HAWKS DEFEAT TORONTO

Eddie Shore, the old boss of Boston, came back to the National Hockey League was yesterday evening and found fans have forgiven him for his part in the injuring of Ace Bailey, Toronto Maple Leaf star whose skull was fractured when he was knocked to the ice by Shore, on December 12.

After a sixteen-game suspension, Shore came back in the Boston-Ranger game yesterday evening. A tremendous ovation greeted him as he skated out. Every move he made was greeted by cheers and applause. He received no penalties, and he turned in one of the finest games of his career.

But nothing Shore could do, not even the new life he injected into his faded teammates, could help Boston to win the game, and the Rangers doubled the score, 4 to 2.

The week-end hockey results had some surprising endings. Toronto Maple Leafs are still perched on top of the standings, but they apparently are showing signs of strain at last. They were held to 2 to 2 tie by Detroit Saturday night, and lost yesterday evening's encounter to Chicago Black Hawks, 2 to 0, their seventh defeat of the season and their first at the hands of the Chicago squad.

Montreal Canadiens are still plugging along in second place, fourteen points behind the league-leading Leafs, while Maroons are knocking at the door just one point behind their city rivals. Americans are in undisputed possession of fourth place, while Ottawa is in the cellar.

A CLOSE RACE

The American section is still furnishing the fireworks as three teams battle it out for the home of the game. The Leafs, the Rangers and the Bruins are holding first place, but the up-and-coming Detroiters are just one point behind, while Chicago only needs to win one game outright to tie the Rangers. Bruins are in last position, but with Shore back should begin to go places.

Montreal managed to nose out the Americans in a Saturday night encounter by the fairest in sectional tournament. This game depicts one of the sins of stalling.

During the 1932 season Loganport and Lafayette, two of Indiana's finest high school teams, played a game 9 to 9, triple overtime. This is another example of a freak game probably caused by over-cautions and stalling tactics.

One of the most colorful basketball stories ever told is that of the Carr Creek high school team of Kentucky. Five or six years ago the Carr Creek team without the aid of a coach, without suits, without substitutes, and even without a floor, went through a successful season and topped it off by making a fine showing in the national tournament at Chicago. While Charlie Gardiner scored his fifth shutout of the season and his opponents scoreless, chief net-minding honors for the week-end went to young Curran, who took both his games and it is no mean feat for even the oldest and most experienced goalkeepers to succeed in such a task.

U.S. SKATERS TITLE WINNERS

Eddie Schroeder and Kit Klein Win North American Honors at Oconomowoc

Oconomowoc, Wis., Jan. 29.—United States skaters triumphed over those of Canada on Fowler Lake yesterday, making a clean sweep of the titles in all four divisions of the North American speed skating championships. It was the first renewal of the international ice classic since 1930.

Chunky Eddie, Schroeder, Chicago, captured the men's championship. By taking first place in the quarter-mile he raised his point total to 110. His closest competitors were Jimmy Webster, St. Paul; Allen Potts, New York; Bill Logan, Saint John, N.B., and Herbert Taylor, New York, who scored sixty points each.

Canada's chances of retaining the men's title Rose Robinson, Toronto, held upon his retirement were considerably lessened by the absence of Alex Hurd, London, and Frank Stack, Winnipeg youth. The two speedsters are competing in a world meet at Oslo, Norway, at present.

With two seconds and a first place yesterday Kit Klein, slim brunette of Buffalo, pushed her point total up to 100, to win the senior women's title. Defeated by Mrs. Wella Brooks-Potter, Scores: New South Wales 145, Brown 200. Mrs. Brooks-Potter scored only two points in this year's meet, finishing third in the mile yesterday.

New South Wales Has Large Margin

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 29.—New South Wales held a long lead over Victoria to-day near the end of the last interstate cricket match of the season. Victoria, led by Bradman, 208, was declared (Fingleton) 145, Brown 200. Mrs. Brooks-Potter scored only two points in this year's meet, finishing third in the mile yesterday.

Raymond Jacks In Two-game Victory

Calgary, Jan. 29.—Raymond Jacks to-day had made a clean sweep of their two-game basketball series with Calgary Moose Dancers in the Alberta senior title race. They defeated the local basketballers 41 to 40 Saturday night, after taking the first contest, 41 to 31, Friday night.

Saanich Thistles Win Soccer Final

Defeat Victoria City 2 to 1 in Milton Cup Fixture; Morgan Scores Pair

Defeating Victoria City 2 to 1, Saanich Thistles captured the Milton Cup soccer final played at the Athletic Park Saturday afternoon. Noel Morgan, feet-footed left winger for the suburban lads, garnered the deciding tally in the dying moments of the game when he rushed in fast to intercept Smith's attempted pass to Moody, and banged the leather into the net with a terrific first-time drive.

Chalmers had no chance with the shot. It was a disappointing finish to an afternoon of good football by Tommy Smith, clever half-back of the City eleven. Outstanding in the pre-scoring play, Smith just made a mistake that any player might easily make, but in this instance it had a disastrous effect. It gave Saanich Thistles possession of the Milton Cup for the next twelve months.

A somewhat ragged first half saw the firing lines of each club passing up many good chances to score, and the goalies having a comparatively easy time. Play of a more aggressive nature was seen in the second session in which the major share of the offensive work was done by the Saanich Thistles.

Fifteen minutes of listless and somewhat ragged play marked the opening. Saanich Thistles made the first dangerous attack when Borde shot with lightning speed and Harper headed over the bar. Morgan took the corner kick, the play being cleared by the City full back. Still on the offensive, the Thistles passed up a good chance to score when Williams, who was feet from the goalmouth, asked the leather over the framework following a nice centre from Morgan. In the subsequent offensive play by the Thistles, Borde was hurt in a collision with Moody, but the play was halted almost simultaneously when Storer was pulled up for offside.

GIBSON INJURED

Victoria City broke fast following the free kick and Holmes sent in a long shot which Rowe handled nicely, returning the ball to the City half of the field with a hefty kick. At this point Gibson, of the suburban eleven, was aided from the field suffering with a twisted ankle. Dave Robertson replaced him.

Play resumed with the Thistles on the attack. Mail worked in close and shot, but Chalmers saved in nice style by pushing the ball behind the posts. Crowe's corner kick was cleared. City were awarded a foul shortly after against Viggers, and McGee's kick towards goal was cleared by Leggett. In receipt of the ball, A. Murray, City right winger, crossed nicely. Rowe taking the leather in the air and throwing clear.

Thistles went on the attack again and Storer's shot for goal was weak. Chalmers, in making a scoping save, fumbled, but recovered quickly and booted the ball clear. Shortly after Chalmers was called upon to pick Morgan's high lob out of the air.

Art Chapman In Brilliant Form As Ribbons Win

Scores Eighteen Points as Cage Champions Turn Back Gilmore Oil 28 to 26

Three Hoop Games Carded Wednesday

Six teams will be in action in Wednesday night's City League cage fixtures at the High School gym. In the opener, Regents and Dealing basket, will meet in the final of the two-game series for the city championship. The Dealing game a nine-point lead in the first game. With the intermediate game, the championship hanging in the balance, the Lake Hill-Cardinals fixture should be an interesting affair. The final game on the card will bring together the Colonist and Normal School men's senior B quintette. The first game will start at 7.30 o'clock.

Art Chapman's basket with thirty seconds to go gave the Blue Ribbons a thrilling 28 to 26 victory over the classy Gilmore Oil squad from Seattle in the exhibition basketball game at the Victoria High School on Saturday evening. The win thrilled the largest crowd to witness a cage game here this season and added another scalp to the long list of victories scored by the Canadian champions this season. The Ribbons were once again forced to come from behind to win, being on the short end of a 24 to 18 count with eleven minutes to go. The local champions got a big hand from the packed gym at the final whistle. In the preliminary game the Lake Hill intermediate A girls defeated the Cardinals 22 to 10 to tie up the division standing.

Besides dropping in the winning basket, Art Chapman was responsible for eighteen of the points scored by the Ribbons. He turned in a spectacular exhibition and a number of his baskets were from what appeared impossible angles. He was easily the outstanding player on the court. It was Art who led the score at 24 to 24 late in the second half, then put the Ribbons ahead 26 to 24 and came to their rescue again after Gilmore had evened matters. All members of the Ribbons played well.

SWANSON IS GOOD

Outstanding on the Gilmore line-up was the smooth Swanson. Swanson, former University of Washington centre, he was a continual source of worry to the Victoria guards. When Fuller, who jumped at centre, flashed some great ball-handling, and was responsible for six points. The Gilmore squad failed to get going until the second half and then they showed the crowd some pretty basketball. In the first half the Oilers missed basket after basket from right underneath the hoop. It was not until the second half of this set-up the Ribbons would have been on the short end of the score at half time, instead of being up 26 to 24. On a double foul time Fuller, Fialor and Swanson would miss from right in close. It marked the first defeat this season for the Seattle Community League leaders.

The game opened with the Ribbons forcing matters and they missed two chances to open the scoring when Chuck Chapman and George Robertson failed to sink free throws. Art Chapman put the Ribbons ahead 12 to 8 on a pass from Martin. The latter dropped through one of two free throws to make it 12 to 8. On a double foul Robertson scored and Frederick missed and the count was 4 to 0. Chuck Chapman made a free throw good to give the Ribbons five points. At this stage the Gilmore players protested against the number of fouls being called against them. Chuck Chapman was good for another point on a free shot. Six persons on the bench called on Gilmore in ten minutes. The visitors got their first basket after eleven minutes play. Fialor batting in a rebound, Art Chapman worked in close and made his shot good and the score was 8 to 2. The Ribbons substituted Rose for Robertson, with Fialor moving up onto the forward line. Tommy Forbes went on for Martin minutes later. Art Chapman tossed in a beauty over his head, and Gilmore called time out.

THREE FAST BASKETS

With four minutes to go Gilmore started the game with a fast break by Swanson, Morrison and Fuller put them within two points of the Ribbons. At this stage Gilmore lost the effort to the forward line. Swanson put through a one-handed flourish from the side and Morrison duplicated the effort from the opposite side of the floor to put Gilmore ahead 16 to 14. Fialor made it 18 to 14 and the Ribbons called time out. A free throw by Swanson was good and Gilmore had a five-point margin. Morrison sank a free throw to bring the visitors' total to twenty. The Ribbons fought back and Art Chapman pushed in a rebound, but at the other end Freeman eluded his check to score from underneath. Chuck Chapman made a shot from the side good, only to have Fuller count with a one-handed shot.

With eleven minutes to go the Ribbons threw caution to the wind and went after points. Robertson battled through a mass of players to get a high to get a rebound and score. A long one-handed shot by Art Chapman from the side went clean through to tie the score at 24 to 24 and the

Bays Walk Over Scots To Second Half Rugby Lead

Oarsmen Romp Through Once Formidable Club to 14 to 0 Victory

Wanderers Drop Just One More

The shell of a club that two or three seasons ago marched onto the field to defend the city championship, Canadian Scottish senior A rugger, erstwhile fighting "Cocks o' the North," turned broody hens on Saturday to let a James Bay Athletic Association team, below its usual strength, walk off with a 14 to 0 victory, to take first place in the second half rugby standings, at Oak Bay Park.

And while the Scots-Bays struggle, which once formed the highlight of league play, was in progress, Wanderers went down to a 11 to 0 defeat before the Navy at Admiral's Road. The Wanderers fought all the way as usual, and were beaten, ditto.

For the first three or four minutes, it looked as if it were going to be a battle at Oak Bay Park, except for the fact the Scottish backfield appeared to have only two three-quarters.

The rowing club launched its first real attack on kicks, Cubby Godwin, making good yardage.

PITS OVER PENALTY
In front of their own posts, the Scots played feet up in the scrum and Bill Lemm converted a penalty kick from just outside the twenty-five, five minutes from the start, to put the Oarsmen ahead.

After sporadic sorties by the Highlanders, Latta kicked to the Scots' five-yard line. Colgate failed to get the ball away and John Beck, Bays' wing, closed on him fast to hold play near the scrum.

Five minutes from the first points, Brown secured in front of the posts and whipped the ball to Godwin, who gave it to Turgoose. Turgoose went on a pretty individual run, ghosting his way through the Highlanders' backfield from their own twenty-five, to go over near the flag, circle and place the ball.

Colgate came through with a pretty clearance, getting away a quick kick past centre and following up to down one of the rowing clubbers on his own twenty-five.

DANGEROUS RUN
The Bays came back on kicks and short runs. Usher nearly broke through but was hit by Robson on a dangerous movement.

Just before the interval, Dick George missed a good try for a penalty goal from a difficult angle about forty-five yards out.

Taking up the attack where they left off, the Oarsmen pushed into Scottish territory when play was resumed. Godwin tried for a field goal, but the ball failed to rise.

Parrott, playing fullback for the rowing club, all but scored when he boosted down a high punt and followed up to take it himself at the Highlanders' line. He was held out.

For a short time the Scots flashed the forwards down on a smashing rush that brought them into the J.B.A.'s twenty-five.

Colgate returned the ball when the Oarsmen cleared and the Scots stormed through to the Bays' ten-yard line. Copeland and Tyne were held out on two backfield efforts and Marling missed a penalty goal attempt before the rowing club broke back into the millstream's ground.

Latta missed a field goal attempt and suffered an injury to his bad knee.

LAST TRY
Dick George featured in a sideline run that sent the ball to the Highlanders' line and Bill Lemm scooped it up when it came loose, to go over for the last try of the game, twenty-seven minutes from the interval. The kick failed.

One of the Scottish backs was hurt but returned to the game after a rest. Joe Addison broke away on a nice wing run but lost the ball when he tried to hurdle a Scottish tackler.

Four minutes from the last try, the Bays gained a penalty kick on the Scots' twenty-five and George converted.

In spite of his bad leg Latta got

BAILEY BENEFIT GAME ON FEB. 14

Toronto, Jan. 29.—The benefit game between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the all-star team from the National Hockey League in aid of Ace Bailey, injured Leaf player, will be staged on February 14, if it is learned here yesterday. Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, was a visitor here to-day in connection with the game. The date is also the day of a special meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association and the O.H.A. has reserved 250 tickets already.

away on a good soccer kicking attack that all but netted a try. For the remainder of the game the rowing club continued to dominate play, with the Highlanders getting away on occasional rushes.

Pete Turgoose was outstanding for the Bays, who played fairly well in the backfield, while Beckett and Colgate gained good yardage for the Scots. Tyne's punting was also noteworthy.

J. B. Acland refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Canadian Scottish—Colgate, McRae, Billingsley, Copeland, Beckett, Tyne, Robson, Woodley, Murdoch, Marling, Gardiner, Campbell, Knight and May. J.B.A.—Parrott, Addison, Turgoose, Latta, Beck, Godwin, Brown, Peard, Lemm, Schults, George, Usher, Pettigrew, Good and Tobin.

BEATEN AGAIN
Wanderers' unbroken string of defeats was maintained at Admiral's Road ground as the Oak Bay boys took their weekly exercise and an 11 to 0 wallowing from the Navy.

Haines and King combined early in the game to make a nice run that carried the Wanderers to the sailors' five-yard line, where the latter was

Throughout the half play swung from end to end, neither team being able to complete attacks. The Navy secured the ball most often from the scrum, but runs were gummed up in the backfield.

McDonald made the first opening well on in the second half, carrying the ball half the length of the field before passing to Hall, who went over for the initial try.

MAKES OPENINGS
Shortly after McDonald again made an opening and passed to Hall. Hall went over and gave Lay the ball to touch down for the second counter.

A few minutes later Hall sent over a cross kick on a penalty and Lay gathered the ball, to go over for the final try. Hall converted to raise the count to 11 to 0.

Using their hands in the scrum robbed the Navy of other scores, the team being pulled back after carrying the ball over.

C. E. Lay handled the whistle and the teams lined up as follows:

Navy—Swart, Christie, McDonald, Candy, Lay, Murray, Hall, Conway, Jones, Sweetman, Massingham, Pest, Caldwell, Nixon and Briggs.

Wanderers—King, Dunsmuir, Campbell, Mayhew, Hutchinson, Croft, E. Symons, Overton, Gann, Lowe, Haines, Locke K. Symons, Peene and Darbyshire.

INTERMEDIATE GAMES
In the intermediate division, Oak Bay Wanderers downed the J.B.A.A. 18 to 7. Laver, McConnan, Pangman and Weight gained tries, three of which McConnan converted, while Winney went over and Murray kicked a field goal for the Oarsmen.

By a score of 15 to 0 Canadian Scottish intermediates defeated the Fifth Brigade in a match at the Can'ton grounds. H. Anderson, Lytton, Briggs and Stewart gained tries and Forbes converted one.

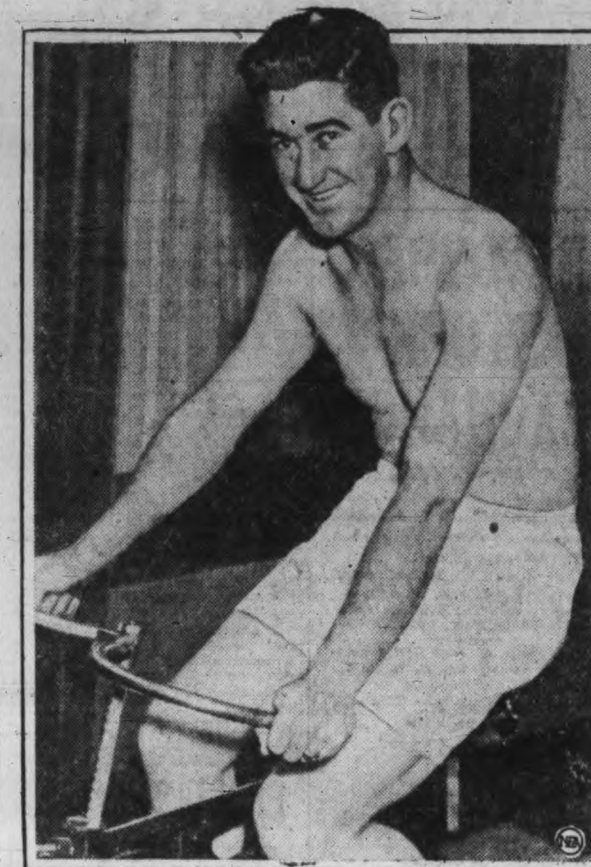

In an exhibition at Mount Tolmie, Victoria College overcame the University School 15 to 9.

Garrison won by default from the Tommies in the scheduled Senior B game of the day.

600,000 Crowd Into Parks For English Cup Soccer Matches

Receipts From Saturday's Games Are $250,000; 56,000 at Highbury

London, Jan. 29.—About as good a sign as any that Britain is on the way back was the large increase in attendance at matches in the fourth round of the football cup competition Saturday. At the sixteen games a total of 600,000 persons turned out, 200,000 more than for the same period a year ago, and receipts were approximately $250,000.

The round brought only one unexpected result, and that was elimination of Huddersfield Town. Huddersfield, in the running for first division honors, right on its own field, was knocked out by Northampton Town, lowly third division outfit, by a score of 2 to 0.

West Ham United, who had the expense of West Ham United and the Arsenal had no difficulty disposing of Crystal Palace, while the only non-league team left in the running, Workington, was eliminated by Preston North End.

Probably the most thrilling match of the round was that at White Hart Lane, where the Spurs eliminated the old London rivals, by a score of 4 to 1.

Fifty thousand persons saw the match.

TERRIFIC PACE
After twenty-five minutes Watson of West Ham scored the first goal. Spurs equalized in the next minute. With remarkable combination and a terrific pace, the Spurs assumed mastery. Hunt gave them the lead, and then Evans and Hunt got the remaining goals.

Delighting the crowd of 56,000 persons at Highbury, the Arsenal scored definite superiority to eliminate Crystal Palace by a 7 to 0 score. Dunne and Beasley scored the first two goals and a third, scored again in the first minute. The Gunners' other goals came from Beasley, Bastin and Dunne.

Thirty thousand persons at Huddersfield saw the big surprise of the round. The teams battled furiously, but there was no score at half time. On the resumption, Northampton kept pressing and after eleven minutes Boyle headed in on a corner. Wells, four minutes after half time, Birkett, after a forty-yard run, scored again in the first minute. The Gunners' other goals came from Beasley, Bastin and Dunne.

While Aberdeen was getting trimmed Hearts won 5 to 1 at Cowdenbeath. It was an easy afternoon for the visitors. White scoring twice, Walker twice and Masie once. Renfrew got Cowdenbeath's only goal.

WEAK FINISH
At Aston Villa's grounds, 50,000 were rewarded with the expected thrills from the meeting of the old cup tie, the Villa and Sunderland, although the Sunderland outfit weakened towards the end and were swamped by a 7 to 2 count.

Astley headed in for the Villa within two minutes, and Houghton scored their second a quarter of an hour later. Astley, the Villa's brilliant leader, had a goal disallowed for a foul on a minute later, and Houghton scored fourth just before half-time. After half time, the Villa proved superior in all departments, and Astley got two goals in five minutes. Hastings scored both Sunderland goals. Houghton got Villa's seventh goal.

Fraser's Rangers did a good stroke of work in transferring their match to Liverpool's grounds. A record crowd of 81,000 turned out at the Lancashire seaside resort, and in the general crush several were injured. Liverpool set a new pace throughout and eliminated

GLASGOW, JAN. 29.—Glasgow Rangers took Dundee in full flight Saturday, winning an amazing game by 6 to 0, and thereby staying three points behind the league-leading Motherwell eleven, and were victorious at Fir Park over Queen's Park by a 3 to 0 score.

Dundee, playing at home, gave the league champions a merry battle at times, and on occasion the Rangers had ten men back of the defence. Leaving Fleming the sole raider, Rangers were well content for the international start scored five goals on his own account.

At Fir Park Motherwell, who have led the Scottish League's first division all season, had Ogilvie out again against Queen's Park and reaped the benefit. McFadyen scored twice and McMenemy one.

RECRUITS STAR
Partick Thistle had their first place when Aberdeen succumbed to Hibernians. The Hibernians struck their form during the sole raider, Rangers were well content for the international start scored five goals on his own account.

At Fir Park Motherwell, who have led the Scottish League's first division all season, had Ogilvie out again against Queen's Park and reaped the benefit. McFadyen scored twice and McMenemy one.

WEAK FINISH
At Aston Villa's grounds, 50,000 were rewarded with the expected thrills from the meeting of the old cup tie, the Villa and Sunderland, although the Sunderland outfit weakened towards the end and were swamped by a 7 to 2 count.

Astley headed in for the Villa within two minutes, and Houghton scored their second a quarter of an hour later. Astley, the Villa's brilliant leader, had a goal disallowed for a foul on a minute later, and Houghton scored fourth just before half-time. After half time, the Villa proved superior in all departments, and Astley got two goals in five minutes. Hastings scored both Sunderland goals. Houghton got Villa's seventh goal.

Fraser's Rangers did a good stroke of work in transferring their match to Liverpool's grounds. A record crowd of 81,000 turned out at the Lancashire seaside resort, and in the general crush several were injured. Liverpool set a new pace throughout and eliminated the third division 3 to 1. Elighah scored in the eighteenth minute, but Meacock got through a stumbling defence to equalize. Through their South African, Nieuwenhuys, Liverpool regained the lead, and despite desperate Transvaal attacks, English made it 3 to 1 just before the end.

Another crowd of 50,000 was an hand at Stamford Bridge where the luckless Chelsea Pensioners managed to hold Notts Forest to a 1 to 1 tie. Priestly scored for Chelsea on a low shot. With five minutes Peacock got the equalizing goal.

There were four other ties in the round. Hull City tied Manchester City 2 to 2, Bury tied Swansea Town 1 to 1, Brighton held Bolton Wanderers to a 1 to 1 tie, and Oldham Athletic and Sheffield Wednesday drew 1 to 1.

PEDEN WINS BIKE GRIND

Partners With Freddy Ottevaire to Capture Honors in Buffalo Six-day

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 29.—Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C., and his Italian teammate, Freddy Ottevaire, related weary bodies to-day after winning Buffalo's inaugural six-day bicycle race early yesterday morning.

Coming from behind with a burst of speed that left opposition far behind, the Peden-Ottevaire duo made up three laps and then went ahead to win by one lap. It was Peden's nineteenth six-day race victory.

To win, the flame-haired Canadian and the black-thatched Ottevaire had to start their sprint for the lead during the early evening apris. The old "Iron-man" Reggie McNamara and young Tino Reboli had led the field for the last four days and gave no sign of weakening when Ottevaire and Peden went out to cut down the three laps they were in arrears.

FURIOUS RIDING
After stealing the three laps to catch the leaders, the winners sold another lap at 10 o'clock and by furious riding thereafter held their lead although pursued doggedly by McNamara and Reboli.

Why Do Women Cry Over Little Things? Finds Most Troubles Imaginary

Pity Us Poor Women, Who Have So Much to Bear!—But Do Not Forget, Caution Dorothy Dix, That Most Women's Troubles Are Molehills Which They Magnify Into Mountains

ONE OF the strangest things about women is the way they magnify trifles. They have a positive genius for making mountains out of molehills, and it is the assiduous following of this occupation that is responsible for most of their unhappiness.

It is literally true that most of women's troubles are little troubles. I do not deny these. Possibly the pebble in the shoe hurts as badly as a mortal wound, but it is both pathetic and humorous that the things that ruin most women's lives and of which they complain loudest and longest are not great crushing tragedies, but petty irritations.

I am, myself, a sort of human tear jug into which unnumbered thousands of women weep, and as I listen to their tales of woe the thing that amazes me most is how small is the grievance that most of them are permitting to spoil their happiness, and I marvel again and again at the feminine lack of perspective, the feminine lack of sense of value, the irresistible feminine mania for prodding at a pimple until they turn it into a cancer that eats out their hearts.

A woman will admit that Heaven has bestowed all of its choicest blessings upon her. She has health, every comfort and luxury, a good, kind, generous, devoted husband, lovely children, a beautiful home, but instead of esteeming herself the favorite daughter of Lady Luck she beats upon her breast and cries out that she is the most miserable of all women because she has made some tiny speck on her horizon into a cloud that blots out all of her sunshine.

It is literally true that women resent some little personal peculiarity in their husbands more than they do their virtues, and that they find it easier to forgive unfaithfulness or drunkenness or being no-account than they do a man's having some little habit that gets on their nerves. The thing that offends turns marriage into cinders, ashes and dust to a woman is the way her husband eats or his failure to wipe his feet on the mat before he comes into the house or his forgetting to post letters. Any one of which crimes she can brood over until it becomes an offence that sets her to picturing a ticket to Reno.

I know one woman who is on the point of divorcing her husband, even though he is one of the best men in the world and a grand provider, because he likes light and the minute he comes in the house he snaps up, all the window shades, which she always keeps exactly at the same meticulous height. I know another woman who feels that her life is unbearable because her husband scatters the papers when he reads them and hangs up the towels on the bathroom floor. And I know innumerable other women who have destroyed all the peace of their homes and driven their husbands from them by waging an unending fight on their husbands' smoking.

The thing over which the great majority of wives make most moan is their husbands' neglect of them. Their husbands' coldness and lack of appreciation. Now this is a dreadful thing, if true, and calculated to make any loving wife grieve, but if you will investigate, nine times out of ten you will find that the wife's charges have no basis in fact.

The poor man is working himself to death to keep his wife soft and safe. He never looks at another woman and sticks as close to his own hearth as the house cat, and he feels that this is all the proof of devotion that any woman should need. But because he provides her with beefsteaks instead of orchids, and because he does not woo her as ardently as he did in his courtship days, she considers herself neglected and worries over having lost his affections.

It is also a woman's fatal ability to put two and two together and make a hundred out of it, that causes many a wife to endure needless tortures of jealousy over her husband's secretary or some pretty little flapper with whom he has amused himself at a party. She has seen her husband and that platinum blonde who works for him talking earnestly together and he need not tell her that it was just about business, and she is sure that every man in the world is a fool who falls for every girl young enough to be his daughter. And so she goes green-eyed over a husband who never had a philandering impulse in his life.

Another potent source of trouble with women is the in-law trouble, which is aggravated, if it is not caused entirely, by the feminine tendency to exaggerate the importance of trifles. Mother-in-law makes a mild suggestion and daughter-in-law takes it as an unwarranted meddling in her affairs and an indication that the older woman is going to try to run her house, and forthwith she runs up the fighting signal. Husband goes to see his mother and wife believes mother-in-law is trying to win her husband away from her.

Son is busy and he and his wife are popular and run around together a lot, so he does not come to see mother often and she sees in his neglect a deep-laid plan on the part of his wife to alienate him from her. John never treated her that way before. And so the two industrious trouble-makers manufacture a situation out of nothing at all that brings a lot of grief to all concerned.

And so it goes through life. Women who should be happy and contented are miserable and disgruntled because they make the unimportant important, because they magnify trifles, because they let the little things that should not worry them fret them to death, and because if they have not any real troubles they create imaginary ones.

Which is very funny. And very sad. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger
